Flames Gut Plush Home

Seven children and a maid escaped without injury yesterday when a spectacular fire gutted the upper story of the David W. Allen Home, 16 Maybridge Road, Belvedere. (Photo on page 17.)

Fire Capt. Ray Coleman estimated the extensive damage to the upper story would mean a total loss of the eight-year-old, 12-room house on the Belvedere Lagoon, valued at $80,000 by Howard B. Allen, the owner's brother.

Belvedere's Building Inspector Rudy Kopfer said today he estimated the damage at 70 per cent of the structure, rented by the Robert A. Naify family of San Francisco.

Tiburon firemen, out on a drill, saw the smoke first and responded, then contacted Belvedere at 1:58 p.m. Four volunteers from Belvedere with two pumper trucks joined eight Tiburon firemen with one pumper, in a 20-minute joint battle to quell the billowing flames which had broken through the roof before firemen arrived.

Four boys upstairs — Warren Simmons, 10, of 12 Maybridge Road; Mark Naify, 13, Michael Van Keulen, 11, of 14 Maybridge Road and Charles Johnstone, 10, of 32 Lagoon Road — told firemen later they got out through windows to the roof, then jumped to the ground.

Downstairs, a maid, Laurie Arnold, got three younger Naify children out when the fire started, Leslie, 5, Christie, 4, and Bobby, 3. The Naify children and their parents had been living in the Allen house which they had rented June 20, while the Allens were in Hawaii. Mr. and Mrs. Naify were not home at the time of the fire.

Chief Lawrence Merserau of Belvedere reported the fire started close to a darkroom on the second floor, but said the cause of the fire was unknown.

STORIES DIFFER

The four boys who were upstairs gave different versions of their actions, according to Belvedere Police Officer Duffy Midyett. The boys were exploring crawl spaces on both sides of the house beneath eaves in the roof. Coming back, young Johnstone said he felt "heat or something weird" when he started to leave the darkroom to go into the bedroom and then the boys saw smoke and flames break out, Midyett reported.

One Tiburon fireman, Richard Box, went to a doctor for a burned hand. Tiburon Capt. Edward J. Parnell had a minor burn on one foot.

OWNER IN RACE

Mr. and Mrs. Allen have been in Hawaii where their yacht, the Privateer, was entered in the trans-Pacific race. Allen is reportedly en route home on the yacht, while Mrs. Allen is said to have left Hawaii by airplane yesterday for a visit with her father in Santa Barbara. The seven Allen children are with their parents.

The two brothers, David and Howard Allen, manage the Belvedere Land Co., which was organized by their father, the late Harry B. Allen, who originally developed the Belvedere Lagoon and much of Belvedere.

Tiburon Annex Plan Dropped; Too Many Foes

Tiburon City Council's plan to annex the unincorporated area of the peninsula went crashing to defeat last night as councilmen conceded protests were more than enough to block their plan.

Protests to the proposed annexation from owners of more than 50 per cent of the assessed valuation in the unincorporated area were needed to block annexation. Stephen H. Kaufmann, Strawberry attorney, estimated protests represented about 70 per cent of the unincorporated land on the peninsula.

"This does not hamper our feeling that the Tiburon Peninsula should eventually be united," said Mayor John S. Hoffmire. "We are sorry it did not get to a vote, but we appreciate the efforts of those citizens who were working for, and those who worked against, annexation."

Douglas de la Fontaine of Eagle Rock, chairman of a committee protesting annexation, said more than 1,100 voters signed petitions against annexation.

Terming the annexation move "ill-timed," he said its defeat "should serve as a reminder to other municipal bodies (as per Mill Valley) with annexation on their minds, that the people of this area have demonstrated a remarkable single-mindedness on the subject of annexation."

U.S .Puts Jet Loss At Six Over North

SAIGON (UPI)—The United States lost six jets bombing Hanoi and its suburbs yesterday including two Navy jets that wavered into Red China, American spokesmen said today. Communist reports said U.S. bombers returned today to pound the North Vietnamese capital again.

U.S. Air Force giant B52 Stratofortresses today struck for the 13th time in 12 days in an effort to smash elements of three North Vietnamese divisions poised for invasion on the South Vietnamese border.

In a Peking Radio broadcast, Communist China claimed the Hanoi raiding, the fatal intrusion by two Navy jets and the B52 raids formed American escalation of the Vietnam war. It called it all a Soviet-American plot against Red China, drafted at the Glassboro summit.

U.S. air losses yesterday fell short of the Dec. 2 record of eight jets downed. But four Navy planes—three A6 Intruders and an F4 Phantom—and two Air Force F105 Thunderchiefs were shot down after pilots met perhaps the toughest air defense of the war over Hanoi yesterday.

The losses brought to 653 the number of American warplanes shot down in action against Communist North Vietnam. Two of the 10 crewmen aboard the six lost planes were rescued. The others were listed as missing.

The chief American targets yesterday were the key thermal power plant 1.1 miles from Hanoi's center and the three rail yards six miles northeast of the city. About 200 locomotives and boxcars were struck after being bottlenecked by the U.S. destruction of the mile-long Paul Doumer Bridge spanning the Red River in Hanoi on Aug. 11.

In the course of their 132 missions over North Vietnam the planes hit a number of new targets, including the Port Wallut Naval Base, headquarters of the North Vietnamese Navy and its main base. They also hit the Kep Ha airfield 37 miles northeast of Haiphong where one small single engine biplane was destroyed and another damaged.

(The Soviet news agency Tass said big groups of American planes bombed and strafed

Peace Key: Civil Rule

TAY NINH, Vietnam (AP) — Tan Van Huong, considered the leading civilian candidate for president, declared today the only thing the people can expect to bring peace to Vietnam "is a civilian solution."

"We cannot say that if we have large amounts of ammunition or if we kill 300 of the enemy today or 500 tomorrow that we will have peace," Huong said.

Huong and seven other civilians who want to become president spoke before a crowd of about 3,000 peasants and city dwellers in Tay Ninh, 60 miles northwest of Saigon, around which has eddied some of the most vicious fighting of the war.

On a neatly manicured soccer field, the gathering listened attentively as the candidates talked about war and peace, the cost of living, corruption and their opponents.

Tay Ninh was the sixth stop on a campaign tour of the countryside. As on the previous stops, the military ticket of Chief of State Nguyen Van

Boy, 17, Slain; Girl Kidnaped, Found Shot

Mendocino Killing; Friend Taken 200 Miles, Abandoned

UKIAH (AP)—The 17-year-old son of a district attorney was killed and his girl companion kidnaped, shot five times and dumped on a highway 200 miles away, where she was found alive today.

Susan Diane Bartolomei regained consciousness in a hospital in the mountain town of Sonora long enough to tell of being kidnaped by two men who gave a lift yesterday to her and Timothy Luce, son of Lake County Dist. Atty. David Luce.

SHOT IN HEAD

Young Luce's body was found last night, shot through the back of the head, in a vineyard near Hopland, 14 miles south of Ukiah in North Central California.

His 17-year-old companion was found this morning 200 miles to the southeast on Big Flat Road leading into Yosemite National Park.

Sheriff Reno Bartolomie of Mendocino County, of which Ukiah is the county seat, said the girl was able to tell this much of what happened:

She and Luce, both Ukiah High School students, had visited a Hopland auto wrecking yard, shopping for parts, but their car broke down as they were driving home.

Two men came along and picked them up in a car.

They drove north a short distance and then turned off on a side road. There, the sheriff said, he believed they executed the boy in a Vineyard, but the girl was not able to tell about it.

INTO COMA

Then the men drove from this Northern California farming area into the Sierra. She lapsed into a coma before she could tell more.

She was shot twice in the base of the brain, once in the neck and once in the back.

Sheriff Bartolomie is no relation to the girl. They spell the names differently.

The sheriff said there was no indication of the identity of the two men. Mendocino County officers flew to Sonora County to join in a hunt.

At Community Hospital in Sonora, 30 miles from where she was found, doctors at first reported her in "fair condition," later described it as "very poor."

The change came after an attempt to transfer her to Doctors' Hospital in Modesto. She went into shock when placed in an ambulance.

A bullet was found in her lungs. An "immediate operation to save her life" was begun in Community Hospital, a spokesman reported.

The California Highway Patrol rushed blood from Modesto to Sonora.

Miss Bartolomei was found at 6:15 a.m. by a rancher on Priests Grade of Highway 120.

Double Life, Two Families For 26 Years

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago Daily News says Joseph Imburgio Bulger, Chicago lawyer who died in plane crash in 1966, lived a double life for 27 years, with one family in Illinois and the other in Florida.

As a young man acquiring wealth he married the former Elsie Tomm. Their home is in Melrose Park, a suburb of Chicago.

In a copyright story the News quotes the former Sallee M. Young, one-time Chicago model: "We were married in Reno, Nev., in 1939." She lives in the Miami area.

LEGAL ADVISER

Bulger, known as a friend and legal adviser to some members of the Chicago crime syndicate, spent workweeks in Chicago and commuted to the South on weekends.

On a Friday afternoon, Dec. 2, 1966, he took off in his plane from Chicago Midway Airport and headed for Miami. The plane crashed into a hillside near Spring City, Tenn.

NOT HIS

Months later, the News says, Sallee Bulger looked at pictures of the wreckage and said:

"Those aren't his shoes. And that can't be his wallet. He never carried one. As far as I know, nobody saw the body who knew him. I can't believe he's dead."

Bulger, a competent pilot, was in his 60s at the time of the crash.

He was a native of New Orleans, where he is known as Josph Imburgio. He added the name Bulger when he entered politics. His father died when he was 11, and the family settled in 1918 in Melrose Park, where a mass Prohibition Era raid uncovered 119 illegal stills.

WAS MAYOR

Young Bulger worked in a bank, married Elsie Tomm, operated a delicatessen, went into the real estate and insurance business. He served as mayor in the early 1930s. He quit to study law. He also held office as president of the Unione Siciliana at a time when members included Tony (Big Tuna) Accardo, Paul (The Waiter) Ricca and some lesser known underworld figures.

The newspaper said Sallee and Bulger lived nine years in apartments and hotels in Chicago and New York, moved to San Marino Island off Miami Beach, moved to Cuba later and ultimately returned to Florida, making their last home on a horse farm southwest of Miami.

The News says a son, Lawrence Joseph Bulger, was born to Sallee Nov. 15, 1949.

Bulger and the former Elsie Tomm had three children—Joseph Jr., who was killed in World War II; Robert, now 43; and Patricia Bulger Jones.

Federal Jury Indictment For Brown

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — A federal grand jury here indicted H. Rap Brown today on a charge of carrying a .30 caliber carbine across state lines while under indictment.

The two-count indictment stated that Brown flew from New York to New Orleans with the carbine on Aug. 16 and returned to New York with the weapon two days later.

The indictment was returned to U.S. Dist. Judge Herbert W. Christenberry, who fixed bond at $25,000.

Brown was arrested in New York last Saturday on a complaint filed by the U.S. attorney here. He has been in jail since then, unable to make $25,000 bond.

Brown, Negro chairman of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee, had been scheduled to address a Negro rally in Baton Rouge Sunday.

Meanwhile in New York, Brown's attorneys were trying today to get a court order lowering the $25,000 bail set when he was arrested there Saturday on a federal gun charge.

WASHINGTON— Gen. John P. McConnell testified today that air attacks against North Vietnam had foiled an enemy plan to "cut South Vietnam in half" and win the war.

McConnell, Air Force chief of staff, told a Senate defense subcommittee that lack of U.S. air power in Vietnam would have required "perhaps more than 800,000 additional United States troops at a cost of $75 billion over what we have already spent."

The Air Force chief agreed with earlier testimony from other career military leaders that a recent marked increase in bombing major targets in North Vietnam had damaged severely Hanoi's ability to continue the war.

'OFFENSIVE HALF'

"The air war in the North is the offensive half of our strategy, with the initiative controlled by the United States, and not the enemy," McConnell told senators. "Airpower, in affording this advantage exerts the influence that is most likely to force the enemy to reconsider his avowed hard line."

McConnell's prepared testimony was made available ouside the closed hearing by the Senate defense preparedness investigating subcommittee hearing top military leaders on the air war.

400 More Fires Hit Northwest; Not Enough Men

BOISE, Idaho (AP) — Vast forest land areas of Idaho, Oregon, Montana and British Columbia were aflame today as firefighters sought to overcome manpower shortages, hot, dry weather, and a threat of lightning storms in the Northwest.

More than 400 new fires were reported yesterday in the region. Washington State officials said the forest fire threat there was the worst in history.

Spokesmen for the U.S. Forest Service regional office in Ogden, Utah, said exact estimates on the number and size of the fires are impossible.

"We don't have enough men to cover all the fires," Richard Stauber, Forest Service information officer, said. "We've been trying to fight the big ones and then on to the others as we can."

Marin Assessment Rolls Up 10.89 Pct. Over 1966

Marin County's assessed valuation for 1967-68 totals $534,516,696, a 10.89 per cent increase over last fiscal year's $482,029,410, Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell reported to the Marin County Board of Supervisors this morning.

The incorporated areas of the county comprise 65.2 per cent of the total assessed valuation, leaving 34.8 per cent for the unincorporated areas. The City of Novato had the greatest increase — 24.94 per cent over the previous year, whereas Fairfax had the lowest city increase — 1.29 per cent.

The figures released today were the final certified assessed valuations which include the public utility rolls from the state.

The public utility rolls for this year are $34,450,000, up $947,540 from last year's $33,492,460.

Mitchell's report gives a breakdown of assessed valuations for all 73 taxing entities in the county, with a comparison of last year's figures.

Hartford said in London he thought Diane Hartford, his third wife, had flown to Paris from New York Sunday with Darin for the singer's appearance at a Paris night-club opening.

"I have nothing to do with Mrs. Hartford and I am unaware whether or not she is coming to France," Darin said.

"I really don't know where she is but I want to talk with her before I make any statement," Hartford, 57, said in London.

Diane, meanwhile, turned up in Hollywood last night.

Fire Protection Forum Is Set Thursday Night

An open forum will be held Thursday on fire protection on Marin Municipal Water District land.

The meeting is being co-sponsored by the state Dvision of Forestry and Chief Louis Bloom of the Marin County fire department. It will be at 7:30 p.m. at the water district office, 220 Nellen Avenue, Corte Madera.

Chief Bloom said today that C. W. Fairbank, deputy state forester in charge of District I, which runs from Marin County north to the Oregon Border, will be present to discuss a fire prevention plan on which the state, the county fire department and conservationists have been working.

The Marin County fire department is responsible for fires on all watershed land in the county, including Mount Tamalpais and County Lake areas, Bloom said.

He added that representatives from the Sierra Club, the Marin Conservation League and other conservation groups will attend the forum.

Husband Of Slain Family Jailed; Awaits Jury Probe

ST. CLOUD, Minn. (UPI)—David Hoskins, 30-year-old church deacon and gospel singer, was lodged in jail under $50,000 bond today, awaiting a grand jury investigation into the deaths of his wife and four children.

The investigation was authorized by Municipal Judge Wendell Y. Henning following Hoskins' arraignment yesterday on aggravated arson charges.

The complaint, filed by Stearns County Atty. Paul Doerner, alleges that Hoskins "willfully and intentionally burned" his farm home "knowing that his wife and four children were in it."

Hennepin County medical examiners in Minneapolis today were in the process of performing autopsies on the bodies of Loretta Hoskins, 29, and the four children, Julie Ann 6, Darla, 4, Linda, 1, and David Eli, 6 weeks.

Police said he had told them in a statement that he shot his wife, fired the house and tied himself up, realizing only after he was tied between the poles that his children still were in the house.

Urban League Takes A Candid Housing Look

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Some tough proposals aimed at "rising conservatism...and miniscule solutions to large problems" began spilling out of regional meetings yesterday at the National Urban League's annual conference.

"The riots have put us in a position where we can be more candid, take greater risks," Executive Director Whitney M. Young Jr. said in a hallway interview. "This is no time for business as usual."

Despite Young's claim that 95 per cent of the league's job and education programs are aimed at hard-core poor, many suggestions made yesterday by the 84 affiliated branches went far beyond anything now being done.

Some were imaginative, some were very expensive, and there was a growing trickle from the Black Power-oriented factions that have begun to make their presence felt at nearly every conference called to deal with the problem of racial relations.

William Oliver, codirector of the United Auto Workers' anti-discrimination department in Detroit, said the only way to avoid what he called the "3B prescription — burn, baby, burn," is to have city and federal governments pay most of the cost of new housing that will be sold rather than rented.

He said any city where violence breaks out should immediately stop urban renewal programs, give all vacant land to a developer at no cost, foot the bill for installing streets, lights and sewers, and pay half the cost if a tenant decides to buy his home.

The federal government should pay for construction, Oliver said, allowing a tenant to move in with a $50 down payment, rent of less than $100 a month, and an option to buy at one-half the building cost.

PRICE WRANGLE

They're Calling Milk Pet Food

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Farmers seeking higher profits opened a store yesterday to sell milk—just plain, ordinary milk—but they called it pet food.

The farmers, selling milk at below state-regulated prices, are laughing. Customers, who are saving 29 cents a gallon, are smiling. But the Pennsylvania Milk Control Commission is frowning. The commission has set prices at $1.08 per gallon for the consumer. The store, in its first day, did a brisk business. A couple of dozen customers were lined up before the doors opened.

Ernest Hayes, head of the United Dairy Farmers which is behind the operation, said with a grin: "We would like the commission to investigate to see that we're doing the right thing for the pets."

An early customer, Phyllis Kernick of suburban Penn Hills, said: "I have two cats, two dogs and six kids at home. You can guess who's going to get the milk."

Also in line to buy milk at 79 cents a gallon were Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Stoehr, parents of five, who own a dog and puppies.

"I'll taste it," said Mrs. Stoehr. "If it tastes all right to me, I don't know why we shouldn't use it for the family to drink." A sign on the wall says: "This milk is sold for pets, and the Pennsylvania Milk Control Commission does not allow it to be sold for human consumption."

Another says: "This is the same quality Pennsylvania farm fresh milk as you buy in your stores. The only difference is it is fresher and better. Treat your pets as you treat yourself."

The farmers say they get 50 to 55 cents a gallon for milk sold under the "pet food" plan while milk sold elsewhere, some of which goes into cheese and butter, returns only 40 cents a gallon.

So far, the milk commission hasn't said what, of anything, it's going to do.

Korea Border Flareup Kills U.S. Soldier

SEOUL (AP) — An American soldier was killed today and another was wounded in the third North Korean attack in as many days on the border between North and South Korea, the U.N. Command announced.

The two GIs were riding in a truck that was blown up by a land mine near the truce village of Panmunjon, 25 miles north of Seoul. The U.S. Army said a group of North Koreans then fired on the disabled vehicle.

An 8th Army spokesman said that one soldier died from injuries from the mine explosion but he did not specify whether the wounded man was hit by gunfire.

A second American truck struck a mine an hour and 20 minutes later in the same area but there were no casualties.

The men were from the U.S. 2nd Infantry Division, which is stationed on the armistice line dividing North and South Korea.

In the Korean War, 54,246 U.S. servicemen were killed in combat or died of noncombat causes. The number of wounded was 103,284.

Terror Bomb Explodes In Hong Kong Hotel

HONG KONG (UPI)—A Communist terrorist bomb packed with shrapnel-like jagged stones exploded in an empty main passenger elevator of the American-owned Hong Kong Hilton Hotel today. No one was injured but the blackened debris included a second, unexploded bomb in a tin can.

A 16-year-old American girl tourist rode the self-operating elevator only moments before the blast. She had planned to ride to her 20th floor room but got off at the second floor lobby, perhaps saving her life.

The explosion occurred shortly before noon on the ground floor of the 25-story hotel, one of the largest in this British crown colony where terrorist bombs have been planted almost daily for two months in a leftist drive to humble the 125-year-old British administration.

Police said the terrorists apparently were using a dual-bomb tactic favored by Viet Cong guerrillas in South Vietnam. A second bomb close by is timed to explode when officials and the curious are clustered about the original bomb site.

Nigerian Rebels Make Peace Bid

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP) — Biafran rebels from Eastern Nigeria have thrust 150 miles west of their border to capture the town of Ore only 100 miles from Lagos, reports from the area said today.

Lt. Col. C. Odumegwu Ojukwu, the rebel leader, said he was ready to talk peace if the Nigerian federal government was ready to grant Biafra its independence, the Biafran Radio announced.

Ojukwu declared the oil-rich Eastern region independent on May 30 after months of bitter feuding with the federal government led by Maj. Gen. Yakubu Gowon.

Murder Arrest Ruled Illegal

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Suspended Deputy Dist. Atty. Jack Kirschke won another legal battle yesterday when a superior court judge ruled a second time that Kirschke's arrest as a double murder suspect last April was illegal.

Superior judge Kathleen Parker, who last Friday ruled in favor of a defense motion to suppress evidence and testimony obtained during the arrest, again ruled the arrest was illegal and said the evidence was inadmissible.

Kirschke, 45, was released two days after the arrest on grounds of insufficient evidence. He was indicted by the county grand jury on June 13, however, and charged with the fatal shootings of his wife, dress designer Elaine Terry Kirschke, 43, and her companion, Orville (Bill) Drankhan, 41, at the Kirschke apartment in nearby Long Beach.

Ross Trustees Reset Meeting

Ross School District trustees, who did not meet last night for lack of quorum, will meet at 7:30 p.m. Monday in Ross School.

Trustees will review pending budget expenditures.

Someone Takes A Traffic Sign

NEW YORK (AP) — Traffic Commissioner Henry A. Barnes blames souvenir hunters for a missing traffic sign taken from Washington Square Park in Greenwich Village.

"It's probably hanging around with a Picasso in some Villager's studio," he said.

The sign reading "To Broadway and South" was erected to indicate a new traffic pattern around the park. Barnes said a new one is being made and will be set in concrete.

Demonstrators Tell U.N. Aide: Hands Off Jerusalem

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

The United Nations' special envoy on Jerusalem today was meeting with Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban at the outset of his two-week fact finding mission on the status of the holy city. He was greeted in Tel Aviv by demonstrators urging the U.N. to "keep its hands off Jerusalem."

President Josip Broz Tito was home in Yugoslavia following a tour of three militant Arab nations and was reportedly setting up a new attempt for an Arab-Israeli settlement in concert with other so-called nonaligned nations like India.

The U.N. cease-fire representative, Gen. Odd Bull was to meet today or tomorrow with Israeli Defense Minister Moshe Dayan to discuss extending the month-long standstill on navigation of the Suez Canal. The agreement between Egypt and Israel expires Sunday.

Diplomatic circles in Jerusalem said Bull would propose another month's extension of the shipping ban. He was said to have discussed this proposal in Cairo during the weekend but the response from Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser was unknown.

Museum Planned Aboard Liner

LONG BEACH (UPI) — The luxury liner Queen Mary — which will be used as a hotel, convention center and museum after it is remodeled and permanently berthed here — will have an operational aquatic museum within a year, it was announced yesterday.

The ship, purchased by the city from Cunard Lines last July 26 for more than $3.4 million, is expected to leave Southampton, England, between Oct. 22 and Oct. 30 on a 39 - day voyage around Cape Horn.

The aquatic museum would be open to the public by August, 1968.

many densely populated areas in the Hanoi area today, causing casualties among the population.

U.S. spokesmen said deadly accurate Communist groundfire near Hanoi yesterday struck a seventh U.S. jet. But its pilot managed to nurse his fighter-bomber back for a fiery landing aboard a U.S. Navy 7th fleet aircraft carrier in the Tonkin Gulf.

Two Navy A6 Intruders, big but relatively slow two-man radar-geared all-weather bombers, accidentally streaked into Communist China apparently while being chased by MIG fighters and surface to air missiles, spokesmen said.

They were reported shot down and the pair of two-man crews listed as missing. Peking claimed it captured one of the four airmen.

Just below the DMZ yesterday, about 1,000 North Vietnamese troops ambushed a U.S. Marine truck supply convoy. The U.S. troops quickly boxed in the Communists with return fire. American jets streaked in and pounded the North Vietnamese invaders who tried to break and flee. U.S. officials said 109 Communists were killed. They said five Americans were slain and 35 wounded.

Hilarita Park Proposal Due More Study

Tiburon City Council last night referred proposed acquisition of park land at Hilarita housing site to an ad hoc committee already studying County Housing Authority proposals for the site.

Committee members are councilmen Thomas E. Drohan and William R. Bremer and planning commissioner Peter MacGowan.

The Parks and Recreation proposed purchase of two acres at the 15-acre site. City Mgr. Lawrence D. Rose previously told councilmen no funds were available for the purchase.

Reed School District trustees have budgeted $75,000 to buy six acres from the Housing Authority.

The proposed master plan for the peninsula designates part of the housing site for park land, the commission noted.

Tiburon City Council also:

REJECT CLAIM — Rejected claim against city for $8,000 personal injury and $50,000 general damages sought by James B. Johnson, alleging failure of police to prevent his son, Bradley, 4 Golden Gate Avenue, Belvedere, from driving his car while intoxicated before involvement in accident.

PROTESTS — Agreed to support Novato's request for night office hours by county assessor's office to hear assessment protests.

Driver Said Fair From Auto Crash

Martin Medin, 77, of Paradise Estates, Point Reyes Station, was reported in fair condition today with cuts and scrapes at Marin General Hospital after being in a single-car accident yesterday in Lagunitas.

California Highway Patrol said Medin's westbound car swerved onto the shoulder of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and hit a culvert at 5:40 a.m.

Slain Hippie's Pal Appears, Questioned

A 31-year-old former drug peddler, wanted for questioning in the slaying of William (Superspade) Thomas, last night voluntarily appeared at the sheriff's office.

Undersheffif Sidney Stinson said the man, Charlie Garcia Jr., declared he was aware he was being sought, and had left the San Francisco area for Los Angeles where he has been staying for several days.

Search for Garcia intensified Aug. 16 after an informant said Garcia and Thomas quarreled over purchase of a large quantity of marijuana a month before Thomas' body was found wrapped in a sleeping bag and rolled over a Point Reyes cliff.

Stinson said today Garcia arrived at the sheriff's office at 10 p.m. yesterday, that he was quizzed for almost four hours. Garcia said he was in the Russian River vicinity with a companion during the period Thomas was believed slain, according to the officer.

Stinson said a portion of Garcia's explanation has been verified, but the remainder will be further checked. He also said he intends to "talk some more" with Garcia, and that Garcia declined to discuss the alleged quarrel with Thomas.

"He would neither confirm nor deny it," said Stinson. The officer has declared Garcia is not a suspect in the murder. He said there have been no other new developments in the investigation.

Weapons Hoard Figure Involved In New Trouble

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — A federal judge asked Clark County officers today to set aside bail for a San Francisco man charged with attempting to bribe two deputies who arrested him on charges of assault with intent to do bodily harm.

Sheriff Ralph Lamb said U.S. Dist. Judge Lloyd H. Burke wired him asking that William E. Thoresen III, 30, be held for federal officers. Lamb said that Burke gave no reason for detaining Thoresen.

Thoresen was indicted by a federal grand jury in San Francisco on charges of illegal possession of a huge arsenal of guns and ammunition.

He had posted $5,500 bond but had not been released on the charges of assault and attempting to bribe the officers. Lamb said Thoresen offered $5,000 each to deputies Ralph Orduno and Al Pipkens.

The officers had arrested him at a motel where security guard said a woman identified as Joan Jelke told them Thoresen had beaten her.

Another On Death Row

Leskie T. Mabry, 24, convicted in Sacramento Aug. 9 of killing a policeman 13 years ago, has arrived on San Quentin's Death Row, Associate Warden James W. L. Park said today.

Mabry was given the death sentence after he was found guilty of shooting Officer Francis M. Rea in North Sacramento while committing a burglary on Jan. 2, 1952.

His arrival brings the total on the row to 61.

Tire Blows On Richmond Bridge

A Fairfax man escaped with cuts on his face yesterday when the right rear tire on his car, westbound on the Richmond-San Rafael Bridge, blew out and the car crashed into the bridge railing.

California Highway Patrol reported the accident happened at 9:15 a.m.

Richard John Curry, 23, of 17 Kent Avenue, Fairfax, was treated at Marin General Hospital.

POLICY

beyond the capacity of his administration," Case told the Senate.

The questioning of objectives was bipartisan. Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., said the Vietnam war represents "the first time in the history of our country that we as a nation have been called upon to question seriously the rightness of our involvement in a war."

Speculating on what might have happened if North Vietnam was spared from aerial attack, McConnell said the Communists wanted to cut South Vietnam in two, repeat the success of the battle against the French at Dien Bien Phu and capture Kon Tun Province.

"The fact that this did not happen, that the enemy was not able to throw massive forces into the conflict, must be credited to the effective employment of air power."

Like other top military leaders who previously testified, McConnell said some "valuable targets" have not yet been hit. New targets are added as others are knocked out to keep up the pressure, he said.

The fact that two Navy Intruder jets were shot down yesterday after straying over the Communist Chinese border leaves "no reason whatsoever" to change bombing guidelines, Chairman John C. Stennis, D-Miss., chairman of the Senate subcommittee, said.

Sen. Case suggested today the heavy U.S. military involvement in Vietnam has so trapped the Johnson administration that the Saigon government can ignore demands for basic civil reforms.

Case, a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said plans to dispatch 45,000 additional U.S. troops emphasize that "American prestige is so deeply involved that we can't withdraw and the South Vietnamese, knowing this, feel free to ignore our requirements."

President Johnson said again yesterday U.S. goals in the war are limited to stopping aggression "to assure a small and struggling nation the chance to chart its own future in freedom."

His remarks came at a White House ceremony at which he presented a Medal of Honor to Marine Gunnery Sgt. Jimmie E. Howard for valor in Vietnam.

Johnson made no reference to the Navy's earlier announcement that two of its attack planes were missing and presumed downed in Red China.

Vacations Halt Two Meetings

Tiburon Board of Adjustments did not meet last night for lack of a quorum, it was announced today by development administrator Phil V. Scott.

Scott said the Tiburon Board of Design Review scheduled for tonight will also be canceled, as so many member are out of town.

The board of adjustment meeting is reset for next Monday and the board of design review for next Tuesday, according to Scott.

Indecent Exposure Arraignment Held

Albert R. Kingman, 49, was arraigned in Marin Superior Court yesterday on a felony charge of indecent exposure with a prior conviction.

Plea entry was scheduled fro 9:30 a.m. Monday.

Kingman, of 221 Princeton Avenue, Mill Valley, allegedly exposed himself near railroad tracks at Elm Avenue in Larkspur July 24.

Hedy Lamarr Says She Was Assaulted

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Actress Hedy Lamarr complained to police yesterday that a man she had dated several times raped her at gunpoint.

On the basis of the complaint, personally signed by the 52-year-old actress at the West Los Angeles police station, officers arrested Donald Blyth, 40, of nearby El Monte, and booked him on suspicion of forcible rape.

Voter List Causes Delay On Balloting

The start yesterday of absentee balloting for Sausalito's Sept. 19 library referendum was delayed until afternoon because the county elections department failed to complete a list of qualified voters.

Peter C. Meyer, assistant county elections officer, explained the list was delayed by "necessary re-princincting. Rather a couple of hours late than wrong," he said.

The only person to try to vote before the list was ready complained the delay "jeopardizes the entire election and reflects vary badly on the city and county." The voter, Charles W. Henderson, 127 San Carlos Avenue, signed the argument opposing the library proposal.

The referendum seeks voters' approval of a plan by the city council to build a waterfront library on a lease-purchase plan. The council voted for lease-purchase after failure March 7 of a $250,000 library bond measure, but the plan was forced to a referendum by a voters' petition.

Absentee balloting closes Sept. 12.

San Geronimo Group Vetoes Anti-Poverty

The San Geronimo Valley Association clearly rejected by voice vote last night plans to establish an anti-poverty program in the community.

It was the first meeting of the full association memberhsip since the Marin County Economic Opportunity Council revealed plans to help poor persons in the valley with federal aid.

Association directors previously went on record against EOC plans.

According to Mrs. Stanley R. Frederick, association member, the group also voted to investigate the possibility of legal action to block the EOC. She said objections were raised that the EOC "deliberately" moved ahead with its plans at this time because many valley residents were away on vacation.

A poverty survey board comprising EOC representatives and valley residents, some of them association members, is currently at work in the community.

In other action, the association voted to oppose the county supervisors' recommendation to raise density under the West Marin Master Plan; supported the Tamalpais High School District $12.3 million bond issue, slated to go to the voters Oct. 10, and planned to invite a speaker at th Sept. 18 meeting to outline the proposal for a city-county service area for police protection.

$810 Is Taken By A Burglar

A burglar during the night entered a San Rafael hame, taking a billfold containing $810 from the foot of the sleeping owner's bed.

James Burr of 633 Mission Avenue called police at 2:30 a.m. after he was awakened by a noise and found his billfold missing.

Police said the bedroom was entered through an open window after the screen had been cut and unlocked.

Reports On Shots

Jean Ann Vincent of 578 Fernando Drive, Novato, told police yesterday at 10:58 a.m. that she heard gunshots coming from a hill north of Davidson Street near Louis Drive. Police checked the area without finding anyone.

POLITICS

Thieu and Premier Nguyen Cao Ky failed to appear, leaving the stage entirely to the civilians.

Huong told the crowd the people "do not believe in the government any more because they have not kept their promises to the people."

A former premier with wide support throughout the country and an aggressive campaign organization, he said the people had lost confidence in the government because of a great amount of corruption.

Huong's remarks brought applause, an interesting fact since the Thieu-Ky ticket is thought to have heavy support in this area.

Tay Ninh is the center of South Vietnam's Cao Dai religion, a powerful sect whose support the government has been wooing.

But political analysts agree that the response of crowds to the speeches of candidates is no indication of how the election will turn out. In previous appearances, criticism of the government by the civilian candidates has brought applause, and in Ban Me Thuot yesterday, a large group of soldiers applauded a criticism of the leaders of the armed forces.

In their trips so far, the civilian candidates have spoken to fewer than 20,000 persons. They will probably speak to 30,000 others before the Sept. 3 election. It is a minuscule proportion of the 5.85 million registered voters, about 80 per cent of whom are expected to vote.

The candidate who controls the votes in the hamlets and villages will win. The civilians are not campaigning there personally, while the Thieu-Ky administration reaches down that far.

Candidate Truong Dinh Dzu told the Tay Ninh audience that if elected he will propose that the United States stop bombing North Vietnam for a while in an attempt to get Hanoi into negotiations. A similar proposal has been made by Thieu, and all of the candidates have presented variations on the theme of peace.

In a country that has been at war more than 20 years, it would be political suicide to come out against peace.

Sanitary Board To Annex Parcel

Novato Sanitary District Boad members last night decided that all 15 acres of land at the Pacific Gas and Electric Co. substation in Ignacio should be annexed to the sanitary district rather than just the 7.8 acres requested by the company.

Fifteen acres of the 29-acre PG & E parcel are in the district and the new request to annex 7.8 acres is to obtain sewer service. Annexation procedures will be started for 15 acres, Charles A. Joseph, district manager, said today.

The board approved plans for proposed sewage facilities to serve the auto mart subdivisions, about 11 acres of land north of the Scottsdale development between Highway 101 and Yukon Way. The board will meet again at 6 p.m., Monday, in the district office.

Park Acoustics To Be Reviewed

The Corte Madera Park and Recreation Commission will hear a report on Dariel Fitzroy's acoustical survey of the town park, relative to starting concerts there, tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. at town hall.

The commission will also hear reports on landscaping plans for the east parking lot at the town park, on turfing of the northwest section of the park and on installation of more lights at the park tennis courts.

A petition with 35 signatures asking for windbreaks at the tennis courts will be considered.

OBITUARIES

Mrs. Mary M. Lee Dies At 80

Mary M. Lee of 605 B Street, San Rafael died yesterday in a local convalescent home after a short illness. She was 80.

Born in San Rafael, Mrs. Lee had lived in the same house for 45 years.

Her husband, William T. Lee, a retired Army serviceman, died three years ago.

Mrs. Lee was a member of the Native Daughters of the Golden West, Marinita Parlor, No. 198, and past president of the SPRSI, both of San Rafael.

She is survived by two sons, Joseph E. Foster and George R. Foster; a brother, Robert Streckfus, all of San Rafael; five grandchildren and seven great granchildren.

Requim mass will be offered Thursday at 9:30 a.m. at St. Raphael's Church, San Rafael. Burial will be in Mount Olivet Cemetery.

Rosary will be recited at Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael tomorrow at 8 p.m.

ELMA MELLERSH

Private funeral for Mrs. Elma Mellersh of San Rafael, a member of the family which formerly owned the Korbel Champagne Co. near Guerneville, was held yesterday in Nobel Chapel at Cypress Lawn Memorial Park in Colma.

Mrs. Mellersh died of a heart attack Saturday at her home at 97 Deer Park Avenue.

She was born in Santa Rosa and lived in San Rafael with her sister, Miss Elsa Korbel, the past 20 years. She was the widow of Thomas C. Mellersh, a mining engineer and Russian River landowner.

The winery was founded by Mrs. Mellersh's father, the late Anton F. Korbel, and operated by the family until it was sold about four years ago.

She is survived by her sister, Miss Korbel.

Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael, was in charge of arrangements.

MYRON DOTY

Funeral for Myron R. Doty, father of Alice Nenneman of Novato, was today in El Cajon, San Diego County.

Doty, a resident of San Francisco for 47 years, died in El Cajon Saturday at the home of his daughter, Dianne Kenney, whom he had been visiting. He was 68.

A native of Missouri, he had retired recently from the Schlage Lock Company in San Francisco after 21 years. He was a member of Electrical Platers Union Local 128.

He is also survived by his wife, Alice, a son, A. W. King of Long Beach, a brother, Phil, of Arizona; a sister, Edith Boyce of San Diego; nine grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

CONSTANCE VAN PEER

Constance Van Peer of Point Reyes Station, died yesterday at the age of 97 in a local convalescent home after a long illness.

A native of Belgium, Mrs. Van Peer had lived in California 41 years and in Marin County 10 years.

While in the county she resided at Inverness, and, in later years, lived with her daughter, Mrs. May Richardson at 40 Manana, Road, Point Reyes Station.

She is survived by her daughter; two sons, Frank C. Van Peer of Point Reyes Sation and Frederick Van Peer of Sacramento; 12 grandchildren; 21 great-grandchildren; and six great-great-grandchildren.

Funeral will be Thursday at 2 p.m. at the Harry M. Williams Mortuary, San Rafael. Burial will be in Mount Tamalpais Cemetery, San Rafael.

MARION DAVIDSON

Mrs. Marion L. Davidson of 47 Corte Encanto, Greenbrae, died yesterday at a local hospital, where she had been a patient five weeks.

She was the wife of John Davidson, a business consultant.

Born in Cleveland, Ohio, Mrs. Davidson lived in New York before moving to Marin County in 1939. The family lived in Sausalito until moving to Greenbrae in 1962.

Also surviving are two sons, James of Cobb, Lake County, and John L. of Larchmont, N.Y.

Private funeral will be at 11:30 a.m. Thursday at Keaton's Mortuary in San Rafael. Inurnment will be private.

JEAN WEGSCHEIDER

Funeral for Jean J. Wegscheider, retired Mill Valley boilermaker, will be at 10 a.m. tomorrow at the Memorial Chapels of Russell and Gooch Mortuary, Mill Valley. The rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. today at the mortuary.

Wegscheider, 71, of 353 East Blithedale Avenue, collapsed Sunday in San Francisco after his car was involved in a rear-end collision on Park Presidio. He was pronounced dead at Park Memorial Hospital. The coroner's office attributed death to a heart attack.

Wegscheider and his wife, Erna, were returning from a football game at Kezar Stadium.

A native of San Francisco, Wegscheider had lived in Marin since 1923 and in Mill Valley since 1931. He was a veteran of World War I.

He is survived by his wife, Erna, of Mill Valley; three sons, Jean A. and Ervin R. Wegscheider of Mill Valley, and Allan L. Wegscheider of Colma, and three grandchildren.

A swarthy and belligerent merchant seaman, Samson Sargis, was arraigned in Marin Municipal Court yesterday on a felony complaint of stealing his 5-year-old son from his ex-wife April 21.

Visiting Judge Lawrence P. Scherb of Culver Judicial District, Los Angeles County, continued the case to 1:30 p.m. Monday for Sargis to obtain a lawyer and enter a plea.

Sargis, 42, is accused of taking the boy, Gabril Sargis, from Mrs. Lila Sargis of Homestead Valley after he had seen the youth under visiting terms of a divorce. Gabril was returned unharmed to the mother July 10 and Sargis was arrested in San Francisco Aug. 11.

The belligerence began yesterday in a courthouse corridor just prior to Sargis' arraignment. He objected to having his photograph taken by an Independent-Journal photographer.

During arraignment, Sargis appeared more concerned about publicity than the criminal proceedings, asking Judge Scherb if he could leave the courtroom by a back door, and what would happen "If I punch them (photographer and a newsman) in the mouth?"

Sargis also tangled with Deputy Dist. Atty. Robert Birkie, after Birkie offered advice. "I don't trust you," Sargis said.

Birkie told the court, "I suggest you hold him in contempt of court if he keeps up this attitude."

Judge Scherb told Sargis he could depart via any door he wished, but added he would "take a dim view of any violence" by Sargis.

Sargis, who appeared neatly attired in grey businessman's suit and tie, remains free on $1,650 bail. A misdemeanor complaint of violating the court order restricting visiting rights — filed prior to the felony complaint — will also be heard at the Monday session.

Defector Elevated

MOSCOW (AP) — Professor Bruno Pontecorvo, the British scientist who defected to the Soviet Union with H-bomb secrets in 1950, has been appointed a head of the new Soviet School of Space Physics, Tass reported today.

Mother Saves Her Baby's Life

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Mrs. Karen Woodworth made a life-or-death decision yesterday. It was the right one for her 7-month-old daughter.

A car bore down on Mrs. Woodworth, 24, as she was taking Melissa to a babysitter. An instant before she was struck and hurled 74 feet, the mother hurled the child to safety.

Melissa landed on the pavement, not seriously injured. Mrs. Woodworth was not as lucky. She was in "very critical condition" today with a possible broken back and skull fracture.

Patrick Files $51 Million Damage Suit

BOISE, Idaho (UPI)—A cosmetics firm operated by millionaire William Penn Patrick of San Rafael yesterday filed a $51.35 million damage suit against the AFL-CIO.

Holiday Magic alleged the labor group, its Idaho branch and 200 affiliated unions in the state urged members last June to boycott the firm's products because of Patrick's political views.

"The said act of the defendants was done maliciously and wantonly, without the guise of any labor dispute with the plaintiff corporation," the company said in its suit filed in Fourth District Court.

The boycott was called for in an AFL-CIO state convention resolution adopted on grounds Patrick had assisted in unsuccessful attempts to recall U.S. Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho. Patrick criticized the senator's stand in favor of a negotiated settlement of the Vietnam war.

Doors Stolen

Someone took doors and cabinet valued at $30 from a vacant house at 15 Miwok Drive, San Anselmo sometime since Aug. 14, San Anselmo police learned yesterday.

McCarthy Sees Burns Retaining Senate Post

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A Republican leader in the Senate says he thinks Democratic Sen. Hugh Burns of Fresno will be retained as Senate president pro tempore next year.

Sen. John McCarthy, R-San Rafael, told newsmen yesterday he does not think there will be a move by Republicans to install a new president pro tem despite the change in the Senate's composition.

Republicans took an edge in the upper house with the election Aug. 15 of Republican Milton Marks of San Francisco to a seat held by the late Democratic Sen. J. Eugene McAteer.

Marks' election gave the Republicans a 20-20 party split in the Senate, with Republican Lt. Gov. Robert H. Finch having the power to cast a tie-breaking vote.

The election also spurred speculation among legislators that Republicans might flex their newly found strength by ousting the Democratic senate leader.

McCarthy said that Burns and the Senate Rules Committee have made committee assignments on the basis of seniority and ability rather than party affiliation, "and on that basis, I don't see any complaints and I think most of the individuals are satisfied."

McCarthy and Marks met informally yesterday with Burns to discuss Marks' pending seating in the Senate.

Burns, who was elected Senate president pro tem in 1957, reiterated yesterday his statement that he expects to receive 21 votes for re-election next session.

Hippies' Zen Diet Is Hit

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) —The babies of hippie parents will suffer unless things change, says Dr. David M. Smith, director of the Haight - Ashbury hippie clinic.

He fears that the supposedly life - prolonging macrobiotic diet adhered to by many Zen hippies will deprive their off - spring of vital nutrition.

In addition, he said, the refusal of Zen practitioners to take medication or permit it to be given their babies leaves the tots wide open to infection.

The macrobiotic diet forbids red meats and includes organic foods grown without pesticides or chemical fertilizers, grains and possibly some fish or chicken.

Beach Homes Plan Gains Maps Approval

A tentative map for Oceana Marin Unit 3, a 28-acre subdivision at Dillon Beach, won the approval of the Marin County Planning Commission yesterday, but with various conditions including control over density.

Oceana Marin Development Co. wants to put in 55 lots on the 28 acres, north of Kailua Way and Oceana Drive.

Among conditions imposed was that the over-all density of Oceana Marin Unit 3 will not exceed the density set by the West Marin Master Plan for this area, now limited to an average of .88 to 1.15 units per gross acre. The board of supervisors, however, has recommended the planning comission increase density to a flat 1.15.

To meet density requirement, the developer may limit density in the remaining 672 acres of the Oceana property, or have Oceana put into a planned community zone before the final map is approved.

Other conditions assure adequate waste disposal, drainage control, easements and landscaping.

The Marin County Planning Commission Also:

STREET — Agreed to abandon a portion of C Street in Point Reyes Station, between Second and Third streets, despite mild objection by Waldo Giacomini, who said Point Reyes may need all its streets.

SIGN — Granted a 5-by-20-foot lighted sign atop an 8-foot fence to advertise The Ark restaurant at Gate 6, north of Sausalito, provided the sign advertises only attractions appearing at The Ark and is not leased out for other purposes such as campaign advertising.

APPEAL — Approved an amendment to the Marin County Zoning Ordinance planned-community district, providing for an appeal procedure in planned-community development.

AGENDA — Granted the planning director authority to notify known interested parties when an agenda item is to be continued to space citizens appearing for a scheduled hearing, only a find that the item has been continued.

CRITICISM — Commissioner Hugh Dougherty questioned the accuracy of some of the information contained in the Neighborhood Analysis and Code Enforcement Programs, compiled by the County Planning Department. He said many buildings in Stinson Beach "including our post office" is classified as "unsound." The commercial area listed in the booklet does not conform with the actual facts, said Dougherty. These "obvious and glaring errors should be corrected," he told Planning Director Paul C. Zucker.

Bolinas Utility Session Tonight

The Bolinas Community Public Utility District board will hold a special meeting at 7:30 p.m. today to discuss its 1967-68 budget.

Sherman R. Smith, manager of the newly-formed district, said the board has no budget estimate yet, but said figures were being gathered from last year's budgets for the Bolinas Beach utility districts, which merged this year.

Budgets for the two districts last year were $33,890 for Bolinas Beach and $43,630 for Bolinas.

Hiring On Agenda

Marin County Republican Central Committee will consider hiring of a part-time executive secretary 8 p.m. today in the county courthouse, reported chairman Charles Michaels. Also on the agenda are plans for a gala opening of the committee's new headquarters at 915 Lootens Place, San Rafael.

Handbook For Students Ready

The 1967-68 edition of the Mariner's Chart, a College of Marin student publication with information for incoming students, is now available to Associated Student members enrolling for the fall semester, according to Harry V. Lehmann, student association president.

This year's edition contains general information on campus life, clubs, politics, policies involving dress and behavior, and student use of campus facilities. It was published and financed entirely by Associated Student funds.

The cover design is by Angela Carbone of Novato. Editors and major contributors are Gerry Sirocky of Larkspur; Tom Ribar and Eileen O'Connell of Kentfield, and Linda Jensen of Fairfax.

WINDOW WASHER RESCUED

Peter Bobby, 65, dangles by a safety belt over the third-floor ledge of a building in downtown Minneapolis, Minn., after possibly suffering a heart attack and slipping from the ledge while washing windows. Police officers crawled onto the ledge to aid in his rescue (left photo) while Fireman Jim Allison climbed a ladder to grab the victim (right photo). At the hospital where Bobby was taken after yesterday's accident, officials say he is in critical condition.

Second-Deck Study Called 'Premature,' Fund Waste

The Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District's decision to proceed with a study for a second deck may at best be premature, and at worst a wrong decision and waste of taxpayers funds," Marin County Planning Director Paul C. Zucker declared yesterday.

He made the statement in his preliminary report to the Marin County Planning Commission during a discussion of the "San Francisco Marin Crossing Report" released last month by E. R. Foley of the Division of Bay Toll Crossings.

SAME MISTAKE

"The Foley report makes the same mistake as the Golden Gate Bridge," said the outspoken Zucker. "It does not show how extra traffic will be handled in Marin and in San Francisco."

"Any major expansion of automobile facilities between Marin and San Francisco should be firmly rejected by Marin," Zucker added. "Neither the delicate environments of Marin or San Francisco can afford continued erosion by the automobile."

Therefore, said Zucker, all of the Bay Toll Crossings alternatives should be rejected except:

1. Golden Gate Corridor, alternate 1 (second deck addition) plus a separate right of way for bus systems.

2. Transit tube, alternate 1 — Rail transit system only.

DECK FIRST

A modern transit system should be established and in operation before any increase in automobile capacity, said Zucker. "If any additional auto capatity is established on the Golden Gate Bridge, it should not follow a two-step approach, i.e., build the second deck first and assume problems on the Marin and San Francisco sides can be resolved. Rather a one step approach of solving the entire problem at once must be used, ie.., if more than four lanes in each direction are not available on both the Marin and San Francisco sides, why have more than four lanes in each direction on the bridge?"

Planning Commissioner Michael Praszker agreed that a second deck for automobile traffic would only compound the problem. "The higher the capacity of the bridge, the lower the capacity of the traffic flow," said Praszker. "You reduce the capacity of traffic by increasing the number of lanes."

COMMUTER HABITS

But other commissioners were wary of jumping to conclusions. Margaret Azevedo said that more detailed analyses of various commute problems and commuter habits are needed before specific conclusions can be made.

The commissioners discussed the need for considering all forms of transportation including ferries, hovercraft, tubes and rail.

Zucker acknowledged that his current analysis is only preliminary, and his final report will be submitted to the Marin County Transit board on Sept. 6.

Fire Bombs Hurled In Yankee, Dixie Cities

COMBINED AP & UPI

Racial tension remained high this morning in New Haven, Conn., and in Baton Rouge, La., after new fire bombings and other unrest.

In New Haven, gangs of Negro youths defied a curfew and took to the streets for the third straight night yesterday, setting fires, smashing windows and looting stores.

Two busloads of Negro families with small children were evacuated at their request from a troubled area.

Police made 115 arrests, raising the three-night arrest total to 345. Most of those arrested were charged with inciting, breach of the peace, theft and curfew violation.

The fire department answered 38 alarms, about half in homes and five of a serious nature. The department said there were more instances of arson yesterday than in the first two nights combined.

More than 600 city and state policemen patrolled the city, mostly three or four to a car. They used the chemical spray mace, which renders its victims meek, a few times to subdue unruly youths.

Mayor Richard C. Lee was grim and obviously upset as he spoke to reporters about the disturbances in New Haven—a city whose urban renewal and anti-poverty programs have been considered a model in the nation.

The Negroes and Puerto Ricans involved in the disturbances are "looking for an excuse to express their feeling about where they live," said Curtiss Belton, head of Operation Breakthrough, a Hill Parents Association project. "We know this ain't no model city."

In Baton Rouge, a firebombing attempt at a white-owned grocery store in a Negro neighborhood fizzled early today. Otherwise, it was quiet in the racially tense capital city as police saturated a Negro section.

Police said five Negroes, armed with brass knuckles and switchblade knives, were arrested during the night.

Negro leader Walter L. Jenkins, 26, who goes by the alias Billy Brooks, was in jail today under a $15,000 bond. Police charged him with public intimidation, battery and inciting aggravated arson.

Gov. John J. McKeithen claimed the federal government arrested Negro civil rights leader H. Rap Brown in New York to save him from arrest on a treason charge in Louisiana.

The governor made the accusation in a speech before the national convention of the Veterans of Foreign Wars yesterday in New Orleans.

"The Justice Department started doing handsprings to arrest that man before he could get to Baton Rouge," said McKeithen, "because we were going to arrest that man for treason—not just to Louisiana but to all these United States—and that would have been embarassing to them."

Police, Judges Scolded On Vice

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The Board of Supervisors voted yesterday to ask Mayor John F. Shelley, Police Chief Thomas Cahill and Municipal Court judges what they plan to do about curbing prostitution.

Supervisor William C. Blake criticized those men for permitting prostitution and demanded: "Let's close the town up . . . Let's close it tight."

Board President Peter Tamaras said that the reputation the Tenderloin district is getting "is a disgrace to our city."

Theft Of Overseas GI Packages Charged

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A mail handler at the Ferry Building annex was charged yesterday with tampering with packages bound for servicemen overseas.

James Haywood, 36, was arrested when patrolmen Joseph Brewer and Edward Costanzi found expensive stereo equipment in his car. They said the packages bore overseas addresses.

Bottle Used To Chase Bandits

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A teen-aged boy, armed only with a soft drink bottle, chased away a gang of men last night after they had shot his father.

Park Huey, 51-year-old owner of a Potrero Hill grocery, was shot twice with a .22 caliber pistol by one of the masked gang who apparently planned to rob the small store.

Huey's son, Byron, heard the shots, rushed into the store from a back room, and threw a soft drink bottle at the armed men, who fled empty-handed.

Huey, who was beaten and robbed two weeks ago, was in serious condition at Mission Emergency Hospital with two bullet wounds in the side.

Plant disease epidemics cost Americans close to $5 billion annually.

Today is Tuesday, Aug. 22, the 234th day of 1967 with 131 to follow.

The moon is between the full stage and last quarter. The morning star is Saturn. The evening star is Mars.

Born on this day in 1867 was Charles Francis Jenkins, American physicist in the field of aviation.

On this day in history:

In 1851, the American yacht, "America," beat the British craft "Audora" off Cowes, England, and won the silver trophy which since has carried its name.

In 1911, the Mona Lisa was stolen from the Louvre museum in Paris. It was recovered Dec. 10.

In 1941, Nazi troops advanced to the outskirts of Leningrad in Russia.

In 1958, President Eisenhower offered to halt American nuclear testing for one year if Russia would do the same.

A thought for the day — French writer Victor Hugo once said: "A compliment is something like a kiss through a veil."

Foolish Finesses Are Taken In Recent Tournament Action

It may be an exaggeration to say that birds do it and bees do it, but certainly Eskimos and South Africans do it.

They all take foolish finesses, as we can see from a hand played in a recent South African team match.

DIAGRAM BID

At the first table of the match South got to three notrump by the auction show in the diagram. South won the first trick with the ten of hearts and took a foolish spade finesse, losing to East's queen.

Back came a heart, and West took the ace and cleared the suit. South could take four spades, two hearts and two clubs if he liked, but that would still leave him one trick short.

South therefore led a diamond, and West defeated the contract with the rest of the hearts.

DIFFERENT CONTRACT

At the second table a member of the other team was declarer at four spades. West opened the nine of clubs, and South won with the king. South then took a foolish spade finesse.

East won with the queen of spades and returned his singleton diamond. West took the ace of diamonds and returned the deuce, whereupon East ruffed and returned a club. West ruffed, cashed the ace of hearts and led anohter diamond for East to ruff. Down three.

FIRST TABLE

At the first table South should lead diamonds at once, taking three diamonds, and two tricks in each of the other suits. The spade finesse is never needed.

At the second table South should lead out the ace and king of trumps at once. Then he loses one trump and the two red aces, making four spades. Here also the spade finesse must not be taken.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with 1-notrump, and the next player passes.

GOLDEN WEDDING — Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Greenfield, looking back on 50 years of marriage at their San Anselmo home, say the highlights of marriage are the things that happen to one's family. (Independent-Journal photo)

Mill Valley City Hall Will Be Open To All

By ALAN JONES

The doors to city hall will remain open to all, the Mill Valley City Council ruled last night.

The council told City Mgr. Bert A. Balmer to draw a written policy on use of the council chamber by outside groups for later discussion, but their intent was clear in last night's debate.

Guidelines suggested embellished the present unwritten policy of allowing all public groups to use the chamber.

PRIORITY LIST

Councilman Michael Wornum suggested priority be given Mill Valley groups, that the council consider charging a fee to meet chamber operating expenses and that meetings be properly run to avoid "incipient riots."

A stir over use of the chamber was roused after Vietnam Summer-Marin used the hall Aug. 2 to discuss the draft and the Vietnam war.

FREEDOM TALKS

Considerably more time was spent last night in defending freedom of speech than attacking it, both by the council and by the audience.

Two members of the audience objected to providing a hall for "outsiders" but Councilman Rodric L. Robinson said it was presumed the audience was from Mill Valley if the speakers were not.

Although the council unanimously upheld use of the chamber for all groups, Councilman George E. Wickham suggested the backgrounds of persons planning meetings "should be published" so people "know what they're listening to."

'CLEAN BILL'

Wickham said some persons had told him some of the Vietnam summer group were Communist party members, but Balmer said the Federal Bureau of Investigation had given the group a "clean bill of health."

"It would be very poor policy," Robinson said, for the council to decide what ideas could be discussed in city hall.

"I thought we long ago got away from guilt by association," Robinson added.

Protests from the audience about the Vietnam summer meeting centered on it being an outside group. If the chamber is kept open, one man predicted, "you'll get requests from the Hell's Angels, the Gypsy Jokers and from the John Birch Society."

Peninsula's Teeners Tell Of Dope Use

BELMONT (AP) — A survey indicates that one seventh of San Mateo County's high school students have used LSD or marijuana one or more times.

The county's Juvenile Justice Commission brought that out yesterday in a preliminary report.

Commissioners passed out 1,827 questionnaires at a large but unidentified school and got back 1,693 answers in sealed envelopes.

Of the 878 boys who answered 18.46 per cent said they had smoked marijuana, 10.06 per cent of them three or more times.

Of the 815 girls who answered 8.59 per cent said they had smoked marijuana, 4.17 per cent of them three or more times. Of the girls, 4.29 per cent said they had used LSD, 4.17 per cent of them three or more times.

San Anselmo Girl Hurt In Fatal Crash

A Palo Alto girl was killed and two other young women—including a San Anselmo resident—were injured last night when their car hurtled out of control near Lassen National Park, Old Station.

The Highway Patrol identified the fatality as Kathryn G. Primm, 18.

Injured were Lynn M. During, 18, of 156 Hillsdale Drive, San Anselmo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. During, and Lorinda G. Wormley, 18, of Yuba City.

Miss During was hospitalized in fair condition with a broken neck in Redding Memorial Hospital, her mother, Merrie, said today. She was driving her car, a late model foreign make given her upon graduation this spring from Sir Francis Drake High School, Mrs. During said.

Mrs. During said her daughter had been working as a park assistant at Lassen, and believed the other girls held similar jobs.

Officers said Miss During's car went out of control on State Highway 89, hit several trees and overturned.

Mill Valley Rents Space For Offices

Mill Valley City Council last night agreed to lease the former offices of the Mill Valley Record opposite the City Hall, to provide more office space.

The city will pay $175 a month for the remaining 10 months of the Record's lease, then pay $325 a month on a five-year lease with a five-year option.

Tenants in the building will be the planning and building inspection departments. The police department will expand into the vacated city hall space.

The council also told City Mgr. Bert A. Balmer to start annexation procedures for the remainder of the Bothin Real Estate Co. property along Miller Avenue and Richardson Bay to speed efforts to get Miller Avenue realigned from the present city limits to Highway 101.

The city tax rate adopted last night by the council was $2.32, up one-half cent from last year's $2.315 per $100 assessed valuation.

The rate was set to help support the city's $1.8 million budget, up $100,000 from last year.

Mill Valley City Council Also:

REZONING — Rezoned an area bounded by Parkwood, Laurelwood and Presidio avenues and Forrest, Hill and Grove streets. The area now has a 2,500 square foot minimum per dwelling unit instead of 3,000.

METERS — Passed an ordinance setting a uniform parking meter rate of five cents an hour.

TAXIS — Reduced the annual taxicab license fee from $36 to $24.

GAS STATION — Sent a proposed rezoning of a gas station lot at East Blithedale Avenue and Camino Alto back to the planning commission for more study and a new recommendation. The commission had recommended denial of the rezoning, which would allow building a new station to replace the present non-conformingone.

ANNEXATION — Passed a resolution of intention to proceed with Alto Corridor No. 2 annexation.

PLANNING — Approved extending the city's "701" federal planning study to November to allow completing hearings.

TRAIL — Received $42 in checks from Bay Area residents to help finance repairs on the Dipsea Trail, following a Sierra Club appeal.

Bidding Asked On Freeway Project

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The state asked for bids today to remove a major bottleneck in the freeway between San Francisco and Sacramento.

The work calls for 4.5 miles of eight-lane freeway in the hills between Vallejo and the Suisun Valley. The route now is a winding, four-lane expressway.

The project is expected to cost about $8.6 million. Bids will be opened Oct. 16 in Sacramento.

IN THE ORIENT

Half-Century Pair Met As Children

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Greenfield of San Anselmo, who will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary Sept. 1, met in Shanghai when she was 5 and he was 9 years old.

At 73, she looks a very attractive 50, and he at 76 is still commuting to the job he has held for 35 years, as a salesman for P. E. O'Hair and Co. of San Francisco. He enjoys his work and is definitely not thinking about retiring.

ORIENT LIFE

Mrs. Greenfield was born Hannah Schwartz in San Francisco, and Greenfield was born in New York. Their parents were in the export-import business, so as a child Mrs. Greenfield spent nine years in the Orient, from 1898 to 1907. Greenfield's family left the Orient in 1906 after several years there.

The two families lost track of each other, until Mrs. Greenfield's brother by coincidence attended the same San Francisco school Greenfield was attending in 1908.

SHORT ON HISTORY

Mrs. Greenfield said education in China was better than education in the United States at that time, "and the only thing that kept me from entering high school when I returned from China at 12 was that I didn't know American history."

They were married in San Francisco in 1917, but the Army kept them apart for the first 18 months of their marriage. Greenfield served with the Army Signal Corps in Mexico in 1909 and 1916, re-enlisted in 1917 and stayed in until the following year.

THE FAMILY

They have lived in San Anselmo for 37 years, the last 27 at 11 Meadowcroft Drive.

Their two daughters are both Marinites, Mrs. Sam Goldbaum living in San Anselmo and Mrs. Morton Calvin living in San Rafael. One granddaughter, Janis Goldbaum, 21, has just graduated from Mills College. Mrs. Calvin has three children, Kimberly, 14, Leslie, 13 and Steven, 5, the only boy in two generations and "the apple of my eyes," Mrs. Greenfield said.

Achieving 50 years of married life does not seem like an achievement to Mrs. Greenfield—she does not feel it could have been any other way. "We just wanted a home and a family—we just couldn't get along without each other," she said.

NO CHANGES

As for the highlights of the marriage, she said, " the highlights are what happens to your family."

There are no plans for any change in the Greenfields' present life, there being no need for change. "We just want to live a quiet life and try to enjoy our grandchildren," she said.

Emeryville Wins Suit Over Fill Ban

OAKLAND (AP) — Judge Robert H. Kroninger granted the City of Emeryville permission yesterday to fill 225 acres of San Francisco Bay, despite a commission's protests.

The judge, in Alameda County Superior Court, vacated a year-old injunction against the filling which had been granted to the Bay Conservation and Development Commission.

Commissioners contended that although 400 feet of dikes had been erected, the city had not gotten the project sufficiently under way before the McAteer-Petris Act went into force. The act is aimed at preventing the piecemeal filling of the bay until a master plan is completed.

Judge Kroninger noted the law exempts "any project where diking or filling has commenced" before Sept. 17, 1965.

The area north of the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge toll plaza is owned by Emeryville, the Santa Fe Railroad and the Fibreboard Corp.

Strikes Part Of Life: Meany

NEW YORK (AP) — AFL—CIO President George Meany has called for a campaign by labor to seek nationalization of any business or industry whose workers are not permitted to strike because of the public interest involved.

"No one should get a private profit out of the operation of a business that cannot be struck," he said yesterday at the convention of the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers International Union. Meany also said that the future of collective bargaining will be threatened if workers are not given a right to strike.

"The bargaining table has no meaning unless you have the right to walk out," Meany said.

Some modern collectors are now collecting barbed wire.

THE SUBURBAN SCENE

Summer In A French Village

By MOLLY MARIN

Col. and Mrs. Brookner W. Brady, who came home Tuesday to Sausalito, had a memorable summer in France. While Marjorie was taking a summer course in French literature arranged for foreign students at the University of Rennes, they lived in a little hotel in the walled town of St. Malo, where only French was spoken. "We studied literature, phonetics and style of French authors," she said, "and the exchange of ideas with students from all of the world with only the French language as a common denominator was fascinating."

MRS. BRADY'S husband spent the time keeping things going for her, she said, and following his own interests in photography. The Bradys also had an extraordinary canal boat trip through the fields of central England. "The boats, consisting of a powered boat with a towed boat, once carried all freight between the country towns in this area," she explained. We lived on a towed boat for a week.

"THE CANALS are only 12 feet wide and the boats only 8 feet wide, but there's such clever use of space that they have bunks and a dining room. It was chummy, though, I can tell you! "We went through 11 locks in a row to take the boats down 80 feet. We saw this part of England at a walk."

SOME FURTHER dates on the Marin debutante calendar—Sept. 3 the Curtiss Haydens will have a supper and informal swimming party at their home in Ross for deb Lisa Dollar . . . Sept. 5 the Marin debs will gather at the home of the ball chairman, Mrs. Dewey Donnell, in Sonoma, for a briefing session followed by luncheon and swimming . . . And the following day Ellen Palmer will be the honoree at the Leslie Spelman home in Mill Valley at a tea hostessed by Mrs. Spelman and Ellen's mother, Mrs. Robert Fields Palmer of Mill Valley.

MRS. WALLACE L. C. Brown of Sausalito was joined by her daughter, Laura Jean (Mrs. John Frederick Saunders of Portland, Ore.), for a month's trip to Guatemala City, where Mrs. Brown was born and lived until she was 12. They stayed with Mrs. Brown's sister, Mrs. Max Himinez Pinto, and brother, Ramon Chavez, and went to Quezaltenango, Antigua, and Lakes Amatitlan and Atitilan. While they were gone Laura Jean's husband, who is in his fourth year of medicine, studied at Mount Zion Hospital in San Francisco, in the cancer research department.

SUSAN MORRISEY of Arlington, Va., who has been visiting her grandmother, Mrs. James G. Hamilton of Sausalito, was honored at a luncheon at the Cliff House in San Francisco given by Mrs. Hamilton and Susan's godmother, Mrs. Edwin S. Long of Sausalito. The Longs' guest for three days has been Dr. George Le Bouvier, who has been doing work in microbiology in Europe for the past five years and is now in the Yale Medical School in New Haven, Conn.

Bonfigli-Bagnall Nuptials In Fall

Family members and close friends who attended a cocktail party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Bagnall in Belvedere Aug. 12, learned of the engagement of the hosts' daughter, Maidie Nancy Bagnall to Dante Michael Bonfigli of Ross.

Nancy, as the bride-elect is called, has two sisters, Margaret Allene Bagnall and Ann Latourette Bagnall, both of Belvedere. She is the granddaughter of Mrs. Clement Harry Bagnall of San Francisco.

The future bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Norbert George Hartman of Ross and Dante Bonfigli of San Francisco. He is the brother of Mrs. Michael Chase of Ross, Mrs. Robert Devon Bell Jr., of Lakeland, Fla., Martin Langsam of Ross, Stephen Paul Hartman and Suzanne Hartman of Ross. His grandmother is Mrs. Lena Blake of Santa Rosa.

The Marin debutante, who was presented in 1963, is a graduate of Redwood High School and Monterey Junior College. She is a stewardess with American Airlines, based in San Francisco.

NANCY BAGNALL

Dante is a graduate of Redwood High School and the College of Marin. He also attended the University of Oregon.

A wedding date of Nov. 4 has been set. The ceremony will be performed by the Rev. Llewellyn A. White at St. Stephens Episcopal Church, Belvedere, and will be followed by a reception at the Meadow Club.

Gillian Mary Spaulding Wed To Christopher Hall In Ross

Gillian Mary Spalding of San Rafael became the bride of Christopher Burham Hall in a ceremony performed yesterday at the home of the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. E. Cargill Hall in Ross.

The bride is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Herbert H. Spalding of Ipswich, England.

The bride chose a gown worn by the bridegroom's great-grandmother of Ecru Brussels lace. It was styled is an Empire line with a train.

Margaret Jane Spalding of Hammonton, N. J., was maid of honor for her sister and Eve Linton of San Rafael was a bridesmaid. They wore sea green Empire gowns.

Eric Hochberg of Santa Barbara was best man and ushering were Byron Hall Jr. of Albuquerque, N.M., the bridegroom's brother, and Ricker Polsdorfer of Ross.

The bride was educated in English schools.

A ceremony at the home followed the ceremony.

The bridegroom, who is also the son of the late Dr. Byron Hall of Belvedere, was graduated from the University of California at Santa Barbara and is serving with the U.S. Army in Seoul, Korea. He is also the brother of E. Cargill Hall of Pasadena and Mesdames Ronald Kogen of Evanston, Ill., and Richard Williams of Mesa, Ariz.

Following a Northern California wedding trip, the couple will live in Seoul.

CULOTTES FROM SPAIN

Spanish designer Herrera Y Ollero included this culotte suit of brown beige and orange wool in his autumn-winter collection. Underneath the jacket which has a soft line with single buttons is a bright orange sleeveless wool blouse. Wide culottes resemble chaps worn with an Andalusian riding outfit.

First Her GI Penpal Just Wanted Measurements, Now Its Marriage

DEAR HELEN:

I started writing to a serviceman in Vietnam. First he wanted my picture, then he asked my measurements. Now he has asked me to marry him. Are all GI penpals this way or did I get an eager beaver?

—MARILEE

DEAR MARILEE:

You either got a very lonely boy or a pretty fast worker . . . though I understand that most fellows in the Vietnam fighting zone get somewhat romantic in their letters. Why not? You girls take the place of dates.

Keep writing "just friends" letters, and if this doesn't cool him down, tell him you lied about your measurements.

—H.

REAR HELEN:

I am a working girl who doesn't want to be one forever. Let's face it, I want to get married, and I've found the guy.

We are very compatible, like the same people, sports, music, entertainment, even food. My only problem is that the woman I work with keeps chasing him. Every time John comes by my office, she is all over him, and she knows all the tricks, while I just sit there trying to look feminine. She is prettier than I am and she's out to get him. I know that violence is the last refuge of the incompetent, but I'm tempted to have a hair-pulling match with her sometimes.

So far John prefers me. He takes me out about four times a week. What really burns me is that when he comes to see me, she drops what little work she does and practically sits on him, while I keep on at my job because that's what I'm paid for.

What should I do?

—ANGRY GIRL

DEAR GIRL:

Where's your self-confidence? And where's your boss? The first should make you laugh at silly, overflowing females; and the second should see to it visitors don't interfere with office work.

Why not arrange to meet John elsewhere?—H.

DEAR HELEN:

Please print this for the girls who don't see anything wrong with petting and making-out, I mean being "easy."

Boy, I really thought I was something big at the time. Now I met a boy who doesn't believe in it, and I love him. But when I'm with him I feel as though I left a part of me some place else. It's a terrible feeling.

—SORRY

DEAR HELEN:

My fiance and I were planning to be married in Septem- In the meantime my future mother-in-law had his younger brother watching me like a hawk.

Last week in broad daylight I met a college friend I hadn't seen for a year. We talked together a bit on the street. He told me he was studying for the ministry and was engaged.

Well, little brother saw and reported. Mama said it wasn't proper for a girl to talk to a member of the opposite sex when she is engaged to HER son. I should say "was," for this, with a lot of other things, made me break up. You see, my ex-fiance always listens to Mama's side and never to mine. He even took her on half our dates because "she needed to get out more." He's a sweet, endearing boy and I love him, but his mother owns the business he manages, so we can't leave town.

He wants me to take his ring back. Should I?—DOUBTFUL

DEAR DOUBTFUL:

. . . Not until he gets rid of the ring in his nose!—H.

Oakland Temple Ceremony For Cheryll Judith Lynn

Cheryll Judith Lynn of San Rafael became the bride of Dean Lowe May of Middleton, Ida., in a 10 o'clock ceremony held Friday evening at Latter Day Saints Temple in Oakland.

For the reception, Cheryll wore a full length gown of white silk shantung. Her maid of honor, Derrith Lynn Hart of San Rafael, and bridesmaids, Judith Rasmussen of Cambridge, Mass., and Gale May of Layton, Utah, wore short dresses of lavender voile.

Following the reception in cultural hall, of Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints in San Rafael, the couple left on a wedding trip to Sun Valley and Payette Lake, Ida. They will make their home in Cambridge, Mass, where the bridegroom is engaged in doctoral study at Harvard.

The bride is a graduate of San Rafael High School, Brigham Young University and Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy at Tufts University. She will teach at North Shore Community College in Beverly, Mass.

Her sister is Mrs. Derrith Hart of San Rafael.

Dean, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank May of Middleton, Ida., is a graduate of Bringham Young University also and University of Cologne where he did graduate study under a Fullbright fellowship. His brothers are Joseph May of Layton, Utah, Reed May of Frankfort, Germany and Dan May of London, England.

Paper Dresses Can't Shape Up To Those Of Nylon, Knit

NEW YORK (AP) — Once upon a time little girls with dull scissors in hand sat on the floor on rainy afternoons and cut out paper dresses for their paper dolls.

This was long before paper dresses were in vogue for great big dolls.

This was also long before fashion designers stopped putting darts in dresses and started pretending that all women were as flat as paper dolls.

While their scissors have since been rusting away somewhere, the little girls have been taking exactly the right amount of time to grow up in order to wear the same styles they cut out for their dolls in their sandbox days.

However, the girls don't look like paper dolls in these designs. While they were growing, the textile industry was developing new, soft, pliable materials that, despite the current paper craze, do things paper can't do —cling to the figure.

The new nylons, and the knits, too, do the trick.

Cutting dresses out of these materials can be simple. Sewing up the patterns is often a matter of stitching up shoulder and side seams. Yet the result is shape, subtle shaping that is there because the woman is there underneath.

No man, despite that old song, really wants to have a paper doll. And no woman wants to be one.

Salb-Gettins Rite Held In San Carlos

John Joseph Salb Jr. of Mill Valley claimed Susan Jane Gettins of San Carlos as his bride in a ceremony on Saturday at the Holy Trinity Lutheran Church in San Carlos.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey D. Gettins of San Carlos.

For her wedding the bride wore a Princess styled gown of white peau de soie accented with lace and seed pearls.

Preceding the bride to the altar in gowns of green chiffon were her sister Mrs. Larry Cravalho of San Mateo as matron of honor and bridesmaids, Mesdames James Gettins of Santa Ciara and Daniel Terry of San Francisco.

Cynthia Gettins of Santa Clara was flower girl and Michael Vendel Jr. of Mill Valley was ringbearer.

Michael Vendel Sr. of Mill Valley was best man and ushering were the bridegroom's brothers, Gilbert and Harold Salb of Los Angeles.

A reception at the home of the bride's parents followed the ceremony.

The bride was graduated from City College of San Francisco. James Gettins of Santa Clara is her brother.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Salb of Greenbrae, was graduated from Golden Gate College with a master's degree. Mrs. Jeanne Vendel of Mill Valley is his sister.

Following a Las Vegas wedding trip, the couple will live in Mill Valley.

WSCS Schedules Rummage Sale

Richard Hamernick Claims Shoshana Waisman As Bride

Shoshana Waisman of San Francisco, the daughter of Senora Albina Waisman of Lima, Peru, was united in marriage to Richard N. Hamernick of Novato at the Good Shepherd Lutheran Church in Novato on Sunday.

The bride was given in marriage by the bridegroom's father, Newton Hamernick. She wore a white cage dress over a fitted sheath with Chantilly lace. Diana Verlarde of San Francisco was the bride's only attendant wearing a pink crepe sheath.

Robert Hamernick was best man for his brother. They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Newton B. Hamernick of Novato.

The newlyweds will reside in Novato.

Senora Solomon Epstein and Senorita Anita Waisman, both of Lima, are sisters of the bride.

Heisel-Wright Wedding Planned

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph W. Wright of Novato are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Linda Margaret, to Mark E. Heisel of Novato.

Linda is the sister of Bill Wright of Corvallis, Ore., Dick Wright of Corte Madera and Jim Wright of Novato.

She was graduated from Novato High School and attended Sonoma State College. She is presently attending Kinman Business College in Spokane, Wash.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Heisel of Novato are the parents of Mark. He is the brother of Mrs. J. P. Smalling and Erick Heisel of Novato. He was graduated from Novato High School, attended the University of California and is now enrolled at the University of Idaho. He recently served in the armed forces.

A spring wedding is planned.

Leftovers To Pizza

If your family loves pizza, don't miss the trick of turning leftovers into their favorite treat. Meat loaf, roast beef, wieners, sausage, tuna, salmon or shrimp may be used this way. Make biscuit dough and pat it lightly into a large size pizza. Spread with leftover meat or fish. Top with ketchup. Add bits of cheese. Season lightly with thyme and paprika. Place on a buttered cooky sheet and bake in a hot oven until the dough is lightly browned and cooked through and the cheese is melted and bubbly.

NORAD Officer's Wife Recalls Experiences On Military Travels

By DOROTHY NEWELL

The home of Maj. Gen. and Mrs. James R. Winn at Hamilton Air Force Base, decorated in gold and greens, reflects the flair that Mrs. Winn has for color and adaptability as do most military wives in transforming base quarters into a home in a very short time.

General Winn, an Army officer at the air base, is the new commander of the Western North American Air Defense Command at Hamilton and the Sixth Army Air Defense Region with headquarters at Fort Baker. The Winns have just recently moved here.

Their former station was the Philippines where General Winn was chief of the joint United States Military Advisory Group.

In this position, they met a number of high government officials and military people.

"THIS WAS quite an experience said Mrs. Winn modestly," "As we probably would never have met these people at other bases." They were stationed there during the big summit meeting last fall, when President and Mrs. Johnson were there.

The Winn's also have lived in Germany, France and Greece, which Mrs. Winn said was probably her favorite foreign country where they have been stationed.

MRS. WINN'S face brightens as she speaks of their married daughter, Mrs. James F. Frazier of Texas and of her "Very Wonderful" grandchildren, Michael, 3, and Stephanie, 9 months old.

A daughter of an Army officer, traveling was not new to Mrs. Winn when she met and married her husband, then just graduated from West Point. She received her engagement ring on her 18th birthday.

Mrs. Winn was living with her parents at Fort Riley, Kans., when she met General Winn, and to this day, the Winn's do their banking at the adjacent city of Junction City, Kan.

How does she like Hamilton? "I think this area is wonderful — doesn't everyone?" said Mrs. Winn.

She has joined the Family Services Volunteers at Hamilton and is an honorary president of the Officers' Wives Club at Hamilton and the Sixth ARADCOM Region.

IS AVAILABLE PRESS GUIDE

A new guide for press chairmen who are interested in getting news to the Marin Women's Section of the Independent-Journal is now available at the San Rafael main office and Mill Valley, Tiburon and Novato offices of the newspaper.

The booklet, "Getting News Into Your Newspaper" is issued as a service of the Independent-Journal Women's Section to assist press chairmen for Marin women's organizations.

Features of the guide explain policies of coverage, how to handle news stories and meeting notices, and what pictures are used.

The booklets at the San Rafael office may be obtained from the switchboard operator.

Hollis Tells Choice For Dope War Job

The Marin County Board of Education will act Sept. 5 on the appointment of Dr. Sanford Feinglass, former adviser to the British Addiction Research Center, as fulltime coordinator of its drug abuse education program.

County Schools Supt. Virgil S. Hollis said last night he will recommend hiring Feinglass, selected from among 15 applicants by the project's steering committee.

LSD FILM

That evening, the board will review a 27-minute film on LSD, one of 25 films for junior and senior high school recommended last night by the board's educational services committee for approval by the full board. The committee was one of those which met at the county schools office.

The LSD film, titled "LSD-25," rents for $275. Committee member Adele Alpers urged that it be shown at the board meeting as a means of avoiding public misunderstanding.

"I think it is good for lay people to see these books and films dealing with controversial matters so we don't have another 'Land of the Free' episode."

"Land of the Free" is an American history textbook which provoked heated protests from conservative groups.

The board's concern with drug education was reflected in the plans for the annual fall teachers' institute which were presented to the committee.

DRUG ABUSE

The institute will be held Sept. 7 at San Clemente School in Corte Madera. It will include a talk on drug abuse and education by Patricia J. Hill, consultant in health education with the State Department of Education and author of a guidebook on the subject for teachers.

The educational services committee also learned of a planned institute on non-graded classes to be co-sponsored Sept. 22-23 by the county schools office and the Science Research Associates, a textbook firm.

There will be a $10 fee for the institute and committee chairman James Carroll challenged the propriety allowing a private firm to use county schools facilities to "make its sales pitch" and to charge for the privilege of hearing it.

Superintendent Hollis promised to inform the board at the Sept. 5 meeting whether the institute will actually involve such commercialism and to report the nature of the affair to the board after it occurs.

NEW AIDE SOUGHT

The board's special education committee, which also met last night, was told by Dr. Rudolph S. Kupfer, director of special education classes at Marindale School and Gallinas School Annex, that the lack of a junior high school program for children with hearing difficulties is forcing parents of such children to send them out of the county.

However, he reported, the board can remedy the situation by hiring on a half-time basis a special instructor for the half-dozen children involved. Kupfer recommended the hiring of Grant Grover, who has worked in programs of this sort in the Seattle school system and who walked into Kupfer's office a few weeks ago looking for a position in Marin County.

The committee noted that the current budget provides for another special education teacher and recommended that the board hire Grover.

High-Rise's Tax Question On Agenda

The Larkspur City Council will take an official look at the recent discovery that the controversial $10.5 million Tamalpais retirement home may not be subject to property taxes tomorrow at 8 p.m. at City Hall.

The possibility that the retirement home under construction in Greenbrae may be tax exempt was raised in a story in the Independent-Journal Aug. 5.

City Mgr. Kent B. Bathurst has written to Dr. John C. Siemens, medical director for the retirement home, asking for classification on the tax status of the home, but has received no answer as of today.

Bathurst said that it tax-exempt status constituted a violation of the Tamalpais' use permit, the matter would have to be referred to the planning commission for a public hearing.

The council will adopt a final budget for fiscal 1968 and set the tax rate. The budget is expected to total $844,324, and the tax rate is expected to be the same as last year's, $1.90 in areas served by the city's sanitary system and $1.27 in the rest of the city.

Last year's budget totaled $778,703. Property tax revenue last year totaled $187,594, and property taxes are expected to produce $214,587 this year.

The council will also consider a $750,000 claim for damages on behalf of Jonathan West, allegedly injured in a rock-throwing incident at Larkspur-Corte Madera School during a summer recreation program.

Installation of two stop signs will be considered, one on Lucky Drive at the westbound entrance to Redwood High School and one on Ranch Lane at the southbound corner of William Avenue.

Vacations Cancel Board's Meeting

Novato Unfied School District trustees did not meet last night, as scheduled, because some trustees and Supt. James G. Bunker were out of town and there was no urgent business, Mrs. La Verne Whitlock, secretary to the deputy superintendent, said today.

The board will next meet at 8 p.m., Sept. 5, in the district office.

'Little Mary Sunshine' To Be Next Production

The Broadway musical "Little Mary Sunshine" will be presented by the Terra Linda Players Oct. 13 through Dec. 2 at the Church in Ignacio.

Mary Diederich of Mill Valley will direct, assisted by Trudy Robinson of Novato. Musical director will be Richard Sparapany of San Francisco and stage director will be Margot Jones.

Mona Horwitz of Sausalito will play the title role. Other cast members include Don Langrock, Bob Bensi, Dick Reutlinger, Sara Davison, John Lindstrom, Nita Ray, Sandra Johnston, George Pritzker, Morrie Batz and Bette Jarboe.

Other productions planned by the group include "My Three Angels," "Once Upon a Mattress" and "Blithe Spirit."

Planners Shun Hearing On Density Near Seminary

The San Anselmo Planning Commission last night passed the buck back to the city council to set policy for rezoning for high density housing around the San Francisco Theological Seminary.

The council on July 11 approved a controversial zone change from single-family to multiple dwelling residential for seminary property at 99 Woodland Avenue and 108 Ross Avenue. The planning commission had recommended denial of the zone change, and several residents of the area opposed the change.

The council asked the commission to hold a public hearing to set boundaries for future expansion of seminary high-density housing, and the commission was to have set the date for the public hearings last night.

But the commission decided it was a matter for council policy, not the planning commission, and tabled it.

The commisson asked for more information on the A. H. Tucker Company's request for a six-lot subdivision on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard between Arbor Avenue and Spaulding Street.

Jewelry Stolen

Harold J. Weldstein of 1420 Grand Avenue, San Rafael, told police yesterday that sometime over the weekend someone stole a watch and three sets of cufflinks, valued at $1,900, from his home. Police said there were no signs of forced entry.

Thieves Are Busy Throughout County

Burglars broke a kitchen window latch of the home of Edmund Lojko, 111 Reed Street, Tamalpais Valley, entering to steal $30 in change and a stop watch, sheriff's officers said today.

Lojko reported the break-in Saturday.

Christopher S. Peacock, 10 Bay View Avenue, Belvedere, told deputies Friday that someone forced the locked right window ventilator of his car parked on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in Inverness. Stolen were a $270 movie camera, a $160 movie projector, and a pair of sunglasses.

Harold L. Bell Jr. and Sidney Gordon, servicemen at the Army's Nike site station on Smith Bros. Ranch Road, Santa Venetia, reported Friday that a transister radio and a $275 tape recorder were stolen from their unlocked barracks.

Rev. Aaron G. Miller of Santa Venetia Presbyterian Church, 635 Adrian Way, told officers Friday someone ransacked the Fireside Room. Nothing was believed taken.

Mrs. Frances Fitzgibbons, Petaluma, reported Thursday her locked car was entered at Sabella's Restaurant parking lot. An expensive purse containing $30 cash was taken. Means of entry was unknown.

Victor L. Grube, 78 Marina Court Drive, San Rafael, said Wednesday that burglars entered an unlocked greenhouse behind his home, stealing nine rare orchids valued at $155 total.

Burglars opened a sliding glass window to enter a 28-foot boat owned by John W. Lowe of Muir Beach and moored at Lowrie Yacht Harbor, San Rafael. Lowe said Thursday a coffee pot and an electric skillet were taken.

Thelma B. Febanske of 4155 Paradise Drive, Tiburon, reported Wednesday that someone unsuccessfully attempted to pry open a locked rear door at her home.

Marin Soprano Due At 'Pops'

Marin soprano Sarah Fleming (Mrs. John Schickling of San Anselmo) will be the soloist tomorrow in the eighth summer concert of the San Francisco Symphony "Pops" orchestra under the direction of Arthur Fiedler.

The program at the San Francisco Civic Auditorium starts at 8:30 p.m.

The singer will perform the opening to Act III from "Swan Lake" by Tchaikovsky; prelude and "Elsa's Dream" from "Lohengrin" by Wagner; and "Ernani, Involami," recitative and cavatina by Verdi.

Hearing Held On Marijuana

Peter Virgil Davis, 20, of 647 Plum Street, Novato, was arraigned in Marin Superior Court yesterday on a complaint of marijuana possession.

Judge Harold J. Haley scheduled further proceedings for 9:30 a.m. Sept. 5.

Davis is accused of having a small quantity of marijuana in his possession when questioned by sheriff's deputies on Mount Tamalpais April 8.

EIGHT FLEE BELVEDERE HOUSE FIRE

Firemen play water on the smoldering roof of the home of land investor David W. Allen at 16 Maybridge Road, Belvedere. Eight persons and a maid, including members of a family renting the home for the summer, were routed by the fire, which broke out shortly before 2 p.m. yesterday. The $80,000 home was called a total loss by Allen's brother, Howard. The owners were in Hawaii. (See story page 1).

Welcome Is Planned For Ball Teams

Novato Chamber of Commerce directors yesterday discussed plans for a welcome home ceremony for the Babe Ruth League All-Stars and the 13-year-old Babe Ruth champions.

A chamber committee will meet at a noon luncheon Thursday at Nero's restaurant to plan a welcoming luncheon, tentatively set for Sept. 1. The Babe Ruth League All-Stars are currently playing at the league world series in Fairbanks, Alaska. About 40 youngsters are involved in the two teams.

The Novato Chamber of Commerce board yesterday also:

WORKSHOP — Set 9:30 a.m., Sept. 16, at Nave Lanes, for a workshop to discuss plans for the fiscal year 1967-68.

BIRTHDAY — Heard from Richard P. Nave, chairman of the military affairs committee, that Hamilton Air Force Base will have its 20th birthday celebration Sept. 18 and efforts are being made to have pupils in Novato and San Rafael school districts excused for the afternoon to see a sky show at 3 p.m.

WORK-EXPERIENCE — Heard Carroll A. Snyker, Marin County Chamber of Commerce manager, explain that the college work-experience program has been "quite successful" and warn merchants to investigate before paying $67 statements for classified directory advertising received in the mail. Nave said that merchants have paid the statements but in many cases have not been placed in directories.

Ways Of Reaching The Youth Probed

Marin County supervisors and the Juvenile Delinquency Prevention Commission groped for methods of reaching the younger generation at a joint meeting this morning at Civic Center.

They reached no conclusions, but tossed out a variety of approaches which the delinquency prevention commission might employ.

Supervisor Peter H. Behr called for an attempt to close the "significant generation gap" by getting to those who do not join successful groups like the YMCA and the Scouts.

"The rock and roll groups and combos have no place to rehearse because of the noise they create," said Behr. "Perhaps in the heart of some commercial district, places should be made available where they can gather, play and perhaps have a Coke."

Supervisor John F. McInnis suggested "coffee table conversations" to get the viewpoints of various existing agencies dealing with the whole problem of delinquency prevention and treatment.

Members of the delinquency prevention commission who met with the supervisors included Rex Silvernale of San Rafael, Jack Heard of Mill Valley, Gary Giacomini of San Rafael, Dr. Robert Herrick of Kentfield and Mrs. Frank Miller of Greenbrae.

All agreed that some method must be found to seek out those youngsters that reject parents and official organizations and do not participate in activities like the YMCA and the Scouts.

Among suggestions offered were youth employment activities like the Mill Valley cleanup, ideas to be solicited from the National Council on Juvenile Delinquency, spotting children at an early age to prevent anti-social behavior, encouraging activities like hiking and perhaps a combo contest for Marin County.

Superfisor Ernest Kettenhoffen said that eventually the juvenile commission might be merged with the juvenile justice commission.

Woman Injured As Auto Spins

A San Rafael woman was reported in good condition today at Marin General Hospital despite injuries received when her car spun on Tiburon Boulevard Sunday and hit a guard rail.

Nancy Lavonne Chamber, 32, of 737 Francisco Boulevard, Apt. 39, was westbound on Tiburon Boulevard, 30 feet west of Trestle Glen Road at 11:30 p.m., when her car went off a curve, hit the guard rail, spun and landed in the eastbound lane, sheriff's deputies reported.

She suffered a broken right leg and ankle and multiple face and scalp cuts.

Ensign now is the lowest commissioned rank in the U.S. Navy.

Council Delays Tax Rate For Another Week

San Rafael taxpayers were given a seven-day reprieve last night. They will not be told the good or bad news about the tax rate until next Monday.

Although on the agenda for last night, San Rafael City Council decided to put off any decision on the rate for a week.

Asked to consider making no change in the 90-cent rate per $100 assessed valuation, Councilman Fred E. Jensen declared: "What's the good of fixing that until we set department head salaries and the capital improvement program. We haven't finished the budget yet."

Mayor C. Paul Bettini was all for finding out what money would come in from new cigarette taxes. The council should consider, too, if increases in state taxes would call for increased salaries for employees, he said.

Agreeing with Jensen that the same tax rate would yield more through increased assessed valuation, Councilman Harry A. Barbier said: "At least I feel we could use the extra money."

Next Monday's special meeting will be held in city hall at 7:30 p.m.

San Rafael Delays Joint Planning Vote

The situation was reversed for Marin County Supervisor John F. McInnis last night. The former mayor of San Rafael found himself in front of some old colleagues in City Hall, expounding the virtues of two county-based programs.

"No one knows more than I do," he said, "that when you are sitting there, there's the tendency to treat anything from the county with suspicion."

His former colleagues agreed with that one — and decided they wanted more time to think over the city-county services committee's proposal for countywide planning.

As a member of the committee, Supervisor McInnis was appearing to press for eventual acceptance of the plan by San Rafael.

Said Councilman Fred E. Jensen: "I cannot help but feel the county is trying to get into the city's business."

McInnis explained that it was proposed that the planning departments of cities and the county meet formerly regularly to set up a "clearing house" of planning ideas. It was not the intention to set up a department responsible for total county planning, he said.

In addition to the formal meetings, planners from cities could meet informally whenever and if ever there was a conflict of interests involving adjacent communities.

Although not buying countywide planning immediately, the council accepted McInnis' "selling" of a specialized police services bureau.

Councilmen agreed on the benefits of a central narcotics bureau which would work independently — but with the concurrence and knowledge — of local police chiefs.

The two-pronged attack on the spreading narcotics problem, said McInnis, would consist of enforcement and education.

The San Rafael City Council Also:

NAME CHANGE — Continued until Sept. 5, a decision on whether to change name of Main Drive, to Castlewood Drive between Point San Pedro Road and Knight Drive. All homes to be effected are in the county.

STORM PROJECT — Approved plans for a storm damage project of reconstruction at Meyer Road.

SIGN OUT — Denied an encroachment permit for a sign at Northgate Shopping Center because members considered it too near the sidewalk.

HEARING — Set Sept. 5 for public hearing into the annexation of 3.06 acres of uninhabited land off Oakmont Court.

POLICE CHANGES — Appointed Gerald R. Green to juvenile officer at salary of $795 a month; promoted Patrolman Gilbert F. Freitas to sergeant-detective with salary of $757 a month; and placed James M. Craddock and Gregory R. Mollow on regular police payroll.

Proposed Park Liked; Money Halts Decision

San Rafael City Council last night agreed in principle to the idea of a 300-acre park developed jointly by San Anselmo, San Rafael and Marin County.

But when it came to basic things like money, members were a little more hesitant, preferring to wait and see how much it would cost before committing the city wholeheartedly.

'LARGE PARK'

"Marin County is becoming one large park," said Councilman Fred E. Jensen " . . . and it is the taxpayers who are having to support it. They are being taxed out of the county."

He maintained for every Marin County taxpayers who would use a park of this kind, there would be ten "outsiders." He added: "You may even have a hippie haven up there."

San Rafael landscape architect William L. Kapranos explained his concept for a "hub regional park" which had grown out of his original assignment to develop the 63-acre Sorich Ranch property for San Anselmo.

TIME ELEMENT

After presenting it to the parks and recreation commission of San Rafael, San Anselmo and the county, Kapranos said he was showing it to San Rafael council—the first of the "owners."

Said the architect: "If you people don't like the idea, then that would be the end of it. Time is of the essence and unless something is done soon, what I am proposing now will have no value."

Councilman Jensen was still not convinced. "We would be spending more money here than we have spent on any other single project," he said.

Councilman Harry A. Barbier said the city should go along with the park idea until it is learned how much further study will cost. He agreed with Jensen that voters should decide for themselves through a bond issue.

The council agreed that, should the San Anselmo City Council and the board of supervisors endorse the plan, the San Rafael Parks and Recreation Director, Andrew J. Snyder, be authorized to meet with his opposite numbers to discuss specifics.

Federal Library Grant Approved

A $126,134 federal grant toward construction of the new Sausalito library has been approved, Mrs. Alice Scarborough, vice president of the Sausalito Library board, announced last night.

The library board also learned that a $1,000 bequest toward construction of the library has been left to the Friends of the Sausalito Library by Elbridge Gerry Eastman.

A referendum on whether to build the $400,000 library is scheduled Sept. 19.

Nine To Receive Nursing Licenses

Nine San Rafael women have been named as successful candidates for registered nursing licenses, reported Michael R. Buggy, executive secretary of the state Board of Nursing Education and Nurse Registration.

They are Kathleen L. Switzer of 1135 Grand Avenue; Sally R. Schullerts of 200 Los Cerros Drive; Ingrid S. Ryst of 268 Knight Drive; Sena M. Olson of 340 Ironstone Court; Bodil W. Klein of 4 Arcangel Way;

Patricia A. Guy of 2200 Lucas Valley Road; Joan D. Goldstein of 1016D Los Gamos Road; Marian L. Estep of 101 Hawthorne Way and Suzanne M. Colombo of 66 Seaview Avenue.

Country Club Buying Sought

The Marin Country Club Men's Association is negotiating with Trousdale Construction Co. of Los Angeles for the purchase of the $1,675,000 Marin Country Club golf course and clubhouse, Novato, William E. King of San Rafael, association president, said today.

Purchase would include the 18-hole golf course and all buildings but would exclude the storage lake at the north end of Hidden Horse Valley.

Polled by letter, about 37 per cent of the association's members favor the proposal, King said. Cost to each member would be between $2,000 and $3,000.

U.S. Steps Into Freeway Dispute

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Lowell Bridwell, the federal highway administrator, is coming to California Thursday to settle a 10-year dispute between San Francisco and the state over the route for Junipero Serra Freeway.

State highway engineers have routed the freeway along the easterly shore of Crystal Springs Lakes, a city - owned reservoir in San Mateo County for water from the Hetch Hetchy system in the Sierra Nevada. The city complains that putting a road there would endanger the water.

City planners want the new freeway along the crest of the Coast Range west of the lakes.

Big School Bond Issues Follow Tax Increases

Major school bond proposals are to be placed before Marin voters in October.

On Oct. 10, voters in Tamalpais High School District will decide the fate of a $12,315,000 bond issue — the largest ever proposed in the district.

Two weeks later, two bond proposlas — for $2,025,000 and for $5,500,000 — will be placed before voters in the San Rafael High School District, and an additional one for $3,060,000 before those of San Rafael Elementary School District, which makes up just about half of the high school district.

ALL UNDOUBTEDLY face heavy going, since they come on the heels of heavy state tax increases, a probable hike in federal income taxes, and lesser increases in taxes of most local jurisdictions.

This hardly looks like a good year for asking people to approve bond issues that must inevitably add still more to taxes. But the need for schools will not wait for a more propitious time.

Citizen committees appointed to push the bond issues in all three districts face a mojor job.

TAMALPAIS HIGH SCHOOL District's bond proposal is an "all or nothing" affair. Included are funds to build two new high schools, in San Geronimo Valley and Tiburon, and a fine arts building at Redwood High School, a covered eating area at Sir Francis Drake High School, and more rooms at the district office at Redwood, as well as rebuilding and refurbishing of classrooms at Tamalpais High School. If the bond issue fails, none of these can be built.

The Tamalpais district citizen committee will have ammunition in the form of an especially well-done survey by a previous citizen committee which was headed by Melvin R. Field, professional opinion surveryor who operates the California Poll.

THE SAN RAFAEL citizen committee will not have such a prestigious name on its survey report, but this does not necessarily mean the report is not as useful. Voters in both San Rafael districts will have the chance to "pick and choose" a little, rather than being offered an "all or nothing" choice.

The $3,060,000 San Rafael elementary school issue would build Glenwood Middle School, buy a schoolsite in Peacock Gap, rebuild and enlarge Short School, and make improvements at several other schools.

The $2,025,000 San Rafael High School District bond issue would repair the old gymnasium to Field Act standards, expand Terra Linda High School to what is now considered its ultimate capacity, and buy a site for a third high school — probably in the Lucas Valley area.

The $5,500,000 bond issue would build a high school on that third site.

WHAT BOTH citizen committees need to guard against (a single committee will promote all three San Rafael proposals) is the sort of over-enthusiasm or under-confidence that sometimes causes bond issue promoters to create false hopes and false bogey-men and to overlook or distort the findings of survey committees.

There's no question of need for schools. The questions will come on the specifics of how the money is to be used. Over-taxed Marinites will not be easy to convince. The committees have big jobs cut out for them.

ASTROMOER FORECASTS EARTH'S END

The end of the world is coming — in just eight billion years, according to a British astronomer, Patrick Moore.

How will our planet die? Not, according to the eminent scientist, by old age, but by being roasted by the sun. "It is thought that the sun will turn into a red giant star . . . much larger than at present. The earth will then become so hot that all life will come to an end."

The astronomer pointed out that life on earth may actually come to an end billions of years before the planet dies, because the polar ice caps will melt and flood the land. Eventually the seas will boil, killing the last surviving things.

The few decades of life on earth allotted by God to each of us seem like a flash compared to the billions of years from creation to the end of the world.

Spend well, therefore, your comparatively short appearance on the stage of life. Let it be a fitting end that God has promised to those who love him.

"Like a drop of water ffrom the sea and a grain of sand so are a few years in the day of eternity." (Sirach 18:10)

Grant, O Jesus, that I may be instrumental in helping many others to reach heaven.

'Every Litter Bag Hurts'— In The Taxpayer's Pocketbook

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—Trivialities of government expenditure, minor though they are in single instances, can multiply into unnecessary disbursals of public money running into significant figures as far as the taxpayer is concerned.

Such a triviality was disclosed last week when the Department of Harbors and Watercraft, in the resources agency, announced it is "giving away" 50,000 waterproof litter bags, especially designed for use of California boaters.

N. W. Sprow, director of the department, said apparently with some regret that "we can't provide litter bags for California's more than a million boaters."

Consequently, a favored few owners of boats will be provided with the bags at a cost of four and one-half cents each to the taxpayers.

"We want to prove," Sprow said, "how easy it is to take garbage, cans, bottles and other picnic refuse back to shore for proper disposal."

GEN. ANDREW R. LOLLI, director of the State Department of General Services, was a bit chagrined, to say the least, when he was apprised of the litter bag incident.

The general has dedicated himself to the policy of cutting down state expenditures, big and little, and is accomplishing a creditable record in effecting decreases, without hampering the efficiency of state government. But the litter bag order, amounting to only $2,266, escaped the eagle eyes of Lolli and his staff of officers in the Department of General Services, which okays the purchases of other departments.

If the state embarked on an anti-litter campaign of similar nature to cover all citizens holding boating licenses and driving automobiles, it was pointed out, it would have to buy some nine million litter bags. Motorists cause more litter than boat owners, probably because there are nine times as many.

Lolli pointed out that the penal code has provisions against littering highways and waterways, providing fines or imprisonment upon conviction. So far, there have been few arrests, and the litterbugs continue to befoul both the highways and waterways.

Typo Unconsciously Creates New Word

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Your front page Aug. 14 dispatch re Vietnam — Johnson — congressional criticism et al contains some very interesting terminology. A large number of typographic errors have recently been noted. It would seem that the I-J — epitome of precise, well-printed and vacuous rural journalism — has gone the way of all large metropolitan newspaper flesh. Is this possible — considering San Rafael's hardly metropolitan and the I-J has rarely had any visible flesh?

Reference is made to Johnson's "politices" in Vietnam and elsewhere in the world. At first glance — a simple typo. Should have been "policies." No—maybe should have been "politics." Well—now I'm not sure, but on deeper Freudian reflection it must be that the linotypist, consciously fed up with setting so much pap from the AP, subconsciously coined a most appropriate term to describe our provincial president's complete and pervading inability to distinguish between POLICIES governing international relations, and Senate cloakroom variety . .

Where Do We Go? Backwards, Perhaps?

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Where do we go from here?

This seems to be a question that is being posed quite frequently these days in official and unofficial discussions. The U.S. riots recently past have served to cause all of us to reflect on this query. Violence can not be permitted under a democratic system and the mayor of Milwaukee can only be respected for taking a prompt positive position in minimizing death and destruction in his city. Commendations rather than respect, would have been in order however, if he had insured equal status of all his citizens (I understand that continual failure of a municipal open housing ordinance set some of the mood of frustration).

The McCone Commission report cited discrimination in housing as well as lack of employment as contributing factors in the Watts riots. I can't help but wonder how many of our major city governments make an attempt to translate those findings into the prevailing situations within their areas. Why was not the lesson of 1965 used to prevent the death and destruction of 1967? Will the 1967 lessons be used to prevent further death, destruction and a consequent decline of our society in 1969? Where do we go from here?

On the local scene, it was personally distressing for me to see the valiant effort of the Marin Study Center go down to defeat for lack of funds. That group's goal to raise the educational level of disadvantaged students in many school grades, if accomplished, certainly can be seen as being beneficial to the entire county. Your newspaper certainly attempted to drum up assistance for the study center but eventually the announcement had to be made that the group was financially unable to continue its tutorial service. Where do THEY, the prospective dropouts, go from here?

Twin Cities Merger Deserves Action

Millions To Kill, But Not To Save

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The recent reduction in Medi-Cal benefits is but another sign of the demoralization of a great nation. It is almost unbelievable that this country is willing to spend millions of dollars for each Viet Cong killed, billions to reach the moon, and then deny many indigent citizens basic medical care.

The limiting of dispensable drugs and surgery to "life saving situations" makes a mockery of any attempts at preventive medicine or rehabilitation. This may prove to be more expensive in the long run, and it will definitely increase the suffering of those afflicted with disease. The discontinuance of physical therapy will put many ambulatory patients in wheel chairs, and increase their need for assistance. The ill, indigent patient has again become a second class citizen.

Undoubtedly there is a limit to taxation, so the answer lies not in spending billions to prosecute unjust wars and to reach hostile planets, but to care for our fellow human beings. Various avenues of protest are open to us all.

Send Whiskered Fighters Home?

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Let's look at both sides of the problem.

On one hand, I believe that the commanding officer at Hamilton Air Force Base, although he may have disapproved of young Gray Ruttledge's beard, should have defended his freedom of choice to wear a beard.

On the other hand, if the commanding officer is right, perhaps our generals will ship home all the young men fighting in Vietnam's civil war whose looks fall short of the tonsorial perfection required by regulations.

In a year, when he is 18, Gray Ruttledge will be required to register for the draft to protect—Freedom?

TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

A story calculated to stagger even the most hardened punster concerns a gentleman who collected porpoises in the ample pool behind his residence, and made the remarkable discovery that by feeding each of them a couple of seagulls every day he could make them live forever. One day while he was out gathering a bagful of gulls a placid lion, too good-natured to hurt a flea, wandered over from a nearby zoo and fell sound alseep smack in the gentleman's doorway. To enter his home, therefore, the gentleman had to vault right over the sleeping lion. That's when the constabulary closed in and hauled him off to the clink.

The charge, of course: transporting gulls across a staid lion for immortal propoises.

The day six of his wife's relatives arrived unexpectedly for weekend visits, poor Alonzo Henpecko had to sleep on the kitchen table. The following morning he enjoyed one novel experience as a result, anyhow: he had breakfast in bed.

But it was in making education not only common to all, but in some sense compulsory on all, that the destiny of the free republics of America was practically settled. Lowell — Among My Books. New England Two Centuries Ago.

Civil Rights Leaders Straying Far Afield Looking For Trouble

WASHINGTON (AP)— There's plenty at home to use up their energy since the civil rights movement is bogged down, but some of its leaders are reaching way beyond civil rights for something to attack or denounce.

Latest example: The Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee—whose past and present leaders are a couple of Negro agitators, Stokely Carmichael and H. Rap Brown—is now accusing the Jews of atrocities against the Arabs.

Before that Dr. Martin Luther King, head of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, was denouncing American involvement in the Vietnamese war and calling this country "the greatest purveyor of violence in the world."

He called for a coalition of the antiwar and civil rights forces.

IN A RECENT LETTER SNCC charged Zionists seized Palestine through terror, force and massacres. The publication carried two photographs purporting to show massacres in the Gaza strip in 1956. SNCC denies it's anti-Sematic.

That's not the way Irwin Shulmann southeastern director of the Anti-Defamation League, sees it. He says the whole business smacks of anti-Semitism. He said the published photographs previously appeared in Arab propaganda publications.

And, he said, the SNCC charges represent the total propaganda line taken by the Arabs with some changes which, he said, reflect Soviet views.

Ralph Featherston, SNCC's program director, said his organization had received no financial help from the Arabs. But it does need financial help. The newsletter appealed for funds in an announcement saying: "Help, help, we're sinking fast."

IT WOULD BE interesting to know what kind of financial shape King's organization is in. About a month after his attack on the war his executive assistant, Rev. Andrew J. Young, said, "I think we are in a rather difficult period now. But we are not worried. We are getting along."

After King's attack on the war, Freedom House — an organization whose directors include former Illinois Sen. Paul Douglas, a famous liberal; Roy Wilkins of NAACP, and Sen. Edward W. Brooke, R-Mass., the only Negro in the Senate —issued a paper attacking King in turn.

It criticized him for lending his "mantle of respectability" to a peace movement which, it said, contained "well-known Communist allies and luminaries of the hate-American left." King denied Communists influenced his war stand.

BUT NOW KING, overshadowed for months by the more bizarre antics of Brown and Carmichael, has another idea which, if it got out of control, might cause more trouble than anything seen in this country in 1967.

He has called for nonviolent programs of organized, mass civil disobedience as a weapon for fighting racial discrimination and poverty. For example: coupling Negro school boycotts with mass sit-ins at factories to demand jobs.

And he has another idea: a massive camp-out in Washington. He said this would mean taking people from Mississippi and camping in the capital while refusing to eat or move until action was taken by Congress to ease slum conditions and economic hardships for Negroes.

THIS DEMONSTRATION, he said, would be similar to the Bonus Expeditionary Force of World War I veterans who camped in Washington in 1932 and were routed by U.S. troops without getting what they wanted: a bonus from Congress.

But the kind of camp-out in Washington King seems to have in mind could wind up in a riot at a time when riots are in the air. For example: If the campers tried to camp indefinitely on government property they could expect to be thrown out. Nobody should know that better than King.

Just last June the Supreme Court upheld the conviction of King and seven others in Birmingham for disobeying a court injunction obtained by city officials to prevent picketing. Those officials said they wanted to prevent the picketing in a situation which could lead to violence.

Mao's Condition Worries CIA Men

By ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON — The Administration's China-watchers are studying with agonizing care every scrap of evidence bearing on the mental and physical condition of Mao Tse-tung, aging boss of the Chinese Communist party.

Motion pictures of all telecasts from Peking are being rushed to the Central Intelligence Agency's headquarters on the outskirts of Washington, and the frames showing Mao are enlarged and examined in the most minute detail.

Reasons for this intense investigation of Mao's features are recent uncomfirmed reports that the 74-year-old Chinese leader suffered a crippling stroke in July which has partially affected both his mind and body.

While no final diagnosis of Mao's condition has been reached, U.S. intelligence experts are convinced that Mao is having trouble speaking, because of his facial expressions.

This is also believed to the reason why no non-Communist visitor has been able to meet with Mao since the stroke allegedly occurred.

OCTOBER MADNESS — Mao's mental condition has become a subject of intense interest to U. S. authorities because of information that Communist China is readying its first intercontinental ballistic missile test over the Pacific.

The ICBM launching is expected by October, possibly late this month.

Although this Chinese ICBM experiment is expected to involve the use of a non-explosive warhead, one CIA document detailing this coming event cautions:

"An irrational Mao might direct that the first ICBM carry a nuclear warhead in order to stress China's fast pace toward big-power nuclear capability. The missile-delivered fourth Chinese nuclear test demonstrates that the Chinese now have the capability to design a low yield fission warhead compatible in size and weight with an ICBM capable of a 5,000-mile range.

"There are several unconfirmed reports from China that Mao wants to detonate a nuclear warhead over the Pacific in October to attract worldwide attention."

PREPARATIONS for the first ICBM launching, according to another CIA report, are already underway at the Chinese nuclear testing grounds near Lob Nor in the northwestern region of Sinkiang.

Evidence of this was obtained by photographs of the site taken recently by U.S. spy satellites. These pictures show a large launcher and two missiles of more than 100-foot length.

Meanest Thief Leaves Novatan With Only 'Might Have Beans'

Our vote for the meanest man in the world, or a close second, is one who lives in the vicinity of Tamalpais Avenue in Novato.

Arthur Alberelli, who lives at 811 Tamalpais Avenue, is a friendly little Italian who keeps the city lawns and hedges trimmed neatly. In addition, he has one of the best vegetable gardens in the whole north Marin area.

The other Saturday night while he was visiting a friend, someone picked his entire crop of pole beans for the year.

IF THIS WERE JUST an isolated case, it could be shrugged off, but the same thing has happened to him for the past four or five years. Just as soon as the pole bean crop is ready and Alberelli is gone, the beans are stolen.

It must take a dastardly mind to watch a little old man in his 70s work and cultivate a crop, and then steal it when he is away from home.

There's no chance of the beans being sour as the grapes in the Aesop fable, because the is too good a gardener, but one could wish that the thief chokes once in a while on the stolen beans.

THE NOVATO CITY COUNCIL is having a running battle with county assessor Bert W. Broemmel. The council wants the assessor to bring the assessment books to Novato during some evenings or Saturdays so people of north Marin can ask questions about the increase in the assessment of their property and learn the procedures to protest it.

So far the assessor has been unwilling to do this. he council has repeated the request three times.

The councilmen know the people in Novato. For years it was a retirement community. There are still many old people, especially widows, living in the area who have no means to get to the civic center during the hours when it is open. Novato also has many people working in San Francisco who cannot get to the assessor's office during the hours when it is open.

"PARKETTE" is the name suggested by Mrs. Carolyn Crabtree for the little lanscaped corner of Highway 101 and Grant Avenue.

So far the City of Novato has been calling it a rest stop because it has two park benches in it. Carolyn argues otherwise on the name.

"In this country, a rest room or rest stop implies toilets, and there are no toilets there," she said.

We won't argue with her. There are no toilets, only park benches, so it becomes "parkette" and not a rest stop.

Reagan Pledges New, Deeper Welfare Study

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Ronald Reagan says that job training programs should be coordinated and that "a complete restructuring of our welfare programs and their administration" is needed.

In a statement released by aides in Sacramento yesterday, Reagan said, "I expect to make a study of welfare problems a major part of this administration's program."

He added, "I am convinced that the answer to the problem is not the continuous addition of new layers of administration on top of old layers."

Reagan made his remarks after receiving the latest report from the McCone Commission, a group appointed under the former administration of Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown to investigate the 1965 Watts riots.

The commission made a study of the problems and issued recommendations. The latest commission study was a follow - up on its recommendations.

Reagan said the report points out weaknesses in the areas of employment and welfare.

He said he is dissolving the McCone Commission at the request of its chairman, John McCone. "In line with his recommendations to me," Reagan said, "I expect shortly to name a statewide advisory committee that will work in the areas detailed in the commission's report."

He said the commission's follow - up report indicates "there is almost no coordination of county, state and federal job training programs" and that "the most serious and immediate problem facing the Negro... is the lack of employment." Availability of jobs, Reagan said, "can solve one of our pressing urban problems." He said he concurs with McCone's belief that there should be a job training program coordinator in each metropolitan area to prevent overlap and duplication

If Only U.S. Camel Could Sneak Into The Tent Of Kuwait's Sheik!

I read an intriguing piece some months ago about Kuwait, which (I had to look it up on the map) is an independent Arab sheikdom lying between Iraq and Saudi Arabia.

The writer said there were no taxes and that everything — schooling, shelter and whatnot — was on the house. Or, rather, on the sheik. For Kuwait simply bubbles with oil and the sheik's royalties from it are so fabulous that he couldn't possibly spend them, and so donates a vast part to his people.

Naturally, nobody ever pickets him. A sheik like that is bound to inspire loyalty and affection, even though he doesn't look precisely like Valentino.

HOW DIFFERENT, alas, are things here. LBJ is in difficulty and his popularity wanes. Puerto Rico thought about statehood, but, on weighing the situation, decided to retain its commonwealth status, thanks just the same.

Other countries, too, are disturbed. Mao's Great Leap Forward is going backward; the Democratic Republic of the Congo (there's a misnomer for you), Nasser's United Arab Republic (ditto), and even that showcase of African culture, Nigeria, are all having shooting trouble.

What's puzzling about this sorry state of affairs is that the UN, which was formed expressly to handle such matters, is still in business in New York. At least, somebody's cashing the checks we send to retain our membership.

MR. McNAMARA has done his best for peace in Vietnam by conducting a no-win war. But the military protest that a prolonged no-win may turn out to be a Ho-win, and are evidently hoping the secretary goed back to Ford.

Nor are things any better on the home front. "What we need in these times" — I quote LBJ, Linus Pauling, Bobby Kennedy, Hubert Humphrey, Senator Fulbright and practically everyone else on TV panels — " is bold, new ideas for the problems confronting us."

This bold, new approach — far older than the hills — Consists of outlining what the government should do for us. Which is strange, since all the above have reverently praised John F. Kennedy's, "Ask not what your country can do for you, but what you can do for your country." Apparently, what they propose to do for their country is bankrupt it. Not that there's far to go.

THEY DEMAND the government eliminate slums, poverty, rats, roaches, hunger, obesity, knock-knees, air pollution and, above all, a balanced budget.

Mayor Lindsay wants $50 billion to make New York a real fun city; Dr. King would put all the unemployed Negroes in the postoffice, thus giving us three deliveries a day — and probably raising the price of a letter to $2; Mr. Farmer of CORE thinks it may take two or three trillion to equalize things.

And Reuther wants private industry to do its share. He asks for his union a raise of about $4 an hour, a guaranteed annual wage, a share of the profits (if any) and a few other fringe benefits. Victor Riesel, that knowledgeable labor reporter, puts the total cost at $18 billion.

That could do for autos what the printers did for three New York papers — Make them disappear. Still, with the cars gone, it would be a great victory over air pollution.

All these demands have obvious merit, but where's the money coming from? Well, here's a bold, new idea, even if TV never ask me.

LET US PETITION the Kuwait shiek to become a commonwealth of his country. Patriotism is old hat, anyhow, and think what we'd get. In return, we cede him our title of leader of the Free World. He may have everything else, but that would give him real status.

In one fell swoop, he take over Vietnam, the hippies, the beatniks, and Stokeley Carmichael. We get rid of our debts and our 1968 election, which could be deadly. Irving Berlin writes a "God Bless Kuwait" hymn, which obviously makes the Hit Parade.

So three cheers for the — darn it, I must look up the colors of the Kuwait flag. But three cheers, anyhow!

Special Bolinas Budget Session

The Bolinas Community Public Utilities District trustees will hold a special meeting at 7:30 p.m. today to discuss its 1967-68 budget.

Sherman R. Smith, manager of the newly-formed district, said the board has no budget estimate yet but said figures were being gathered from last year's budgets for the Bolinas and Bolinas Beach utilities districts, which merged this year to form the Bolinas Community District.

Last year's budgets were $43,630 for Bolinas and $33,890 for Bolinas Beach.

NOTICE OF TRUSTEE'S SALE
Loan No. 301-9509-4
Default No. 1505
On Thursday, October 5, 1967, at the hour of 1:00 P.M., at the Fourth Street entrance of the Old County Courthouse between A and Court Streets, San Rafael, California, GUARANTY SERVICE CORPORATION, a California corporation, as trustee, will sell at public auction to the highest bidder for cash, in lawful money of the United States, all payable at the time of sale, all that certain real property situate, lying and being in the City of Fairfax, County of Marin, State of California, described as follows:
Beginning at the Easterly line of Meernaa Avenue at the Northwesterly corner of Lot 134, as shown upon that certain map entitled, "Map No. 1 Deer Park, Fairfax, Marin Co., 1907", filed for record January 7, 1908 in Book 2 of Maps, at page 105, Marin County Records; running thence along the Northerly line of said Lot 134 North 71° 18' East 98.36 feet; thence South 29° 16' East 40.35 feet; thence South 62° 02' West 107.47 feet to the Easterly line of said Meernaa Avenue, and thence along same North 18° 23' West 57 feet to the point of beginning.
Being a portion of Lots 133 and 134 as shown upon the map referred to above.
Said sale will be made without warranty or covenant regarding title, possession or encumbrances, to satisfy the obligations secured by and pursuant to the power of sale contained in that certain deed of trust executed by RAYMOND J. ECKERT and DORIS H. ECKERT, his wife, as Trustors, to GUARANTY SERVICE CORPORATION, a California corporation, as Trustee, and FIDELITY SAVINGS AND LOAN ASSOCIATION, a corporation, as Lender, the beneficial interest under said deed of trust now being owned and held by said association, and which said deed of trust is dated February 11, 1964, and was recorded on February 14, 1964, in the office of the County Recorder of Marin County, California, in Book 1779 of Official Records, at Page 576, Marin County Records.
Notice of default and election to sell the described real property under the above deed of trust was recorded on April 21, 1967, in the office of the County Recorder of Marin County, California, in Book 2123 of Official Records, at Page 105, Marin County Records.
Dated: August 9, 1967.

Touch Of Home

FESTUS, Mo. (UPI)—Young Dale Werner got a letter from his soldier brother, "Butch" Werner, saying that he had been to a barracks in Vietnam on "Vine Street." The Werner family lives on Vine Street here.

AFTER QUARTER-CENTURY

Marin Health Department Remembers Many Changes

By ALAN JONES

In the good old days, 25 years ago Sept. 1, the Marin County Public Health Department was created by the board of supervisors.

In the good old days this is the way things were:

Only half the milk produced in Marin was pasteurized, the rest being sold as raw milk.

There was one sewage treatment plant in Marin, the other systems pouring raw sewage into San Francisco Bay.

There was no local food or sanitation inspection in stores and restaurants. The state authorities came around twice a year.

The only immunization program was one sponsored by the child welfare committee of the Forty-and-Eight Voiture of Marin County, an American Legion group.

No one really knew the disease rate because no one kept records.

In a 1941 survey taken for Hamilton Field, Marin was called "one of the most backward counties in the western . . . United States," in public health.

Marin County and eight of its cities had health officers, but all were part-time employees and none had training or full time experience in public health work.

The county paid its officer $1,500 a year, while San Rafael and Mill Valley paid theirs $600 and San Anselmo paid $300. The other officers received no salary.

The move to create a full-time public health department started with a citizens' committee report to the supervisors in 1939, but the jab from the Hamilton survey may have stung officials into action. It was a year later that the supervisors created the department.

The staff? Four persons — Health Officer Dr. Irving Johnson, a nurse, a sanitarian and a secretary. The total budget for its first year was $21,750, with $8,270 of that from county funds.

The 1967-68 budget is $619,002, with $452,713 from county funds. The department has 51 persons, including 12 public health nurses, a clinic nurse, therapists, microbiologists, a nutritionist, an X-ray technician and many others.

Few would say the department was not worth the expense. Many parents would consider that one project alone would justify the department's entire 25-year-cost — the mass polio inoculations which all but wiped out that disease a decade ago.

Dr. Johnson headed the department until 1950, when he was succeeded by Dr. Clarice H. Haylett, who served until Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht, the present health officer, was appointed in 1954.

The department first set up shop at 704 Fourth Street in San Rafael, in the brick building which now houses La Petite Auberge restaurant.

A new building was built at 920 Grand Avenue in 1953 and the department moved in. With 24 employees, the budget that year was $142,641.

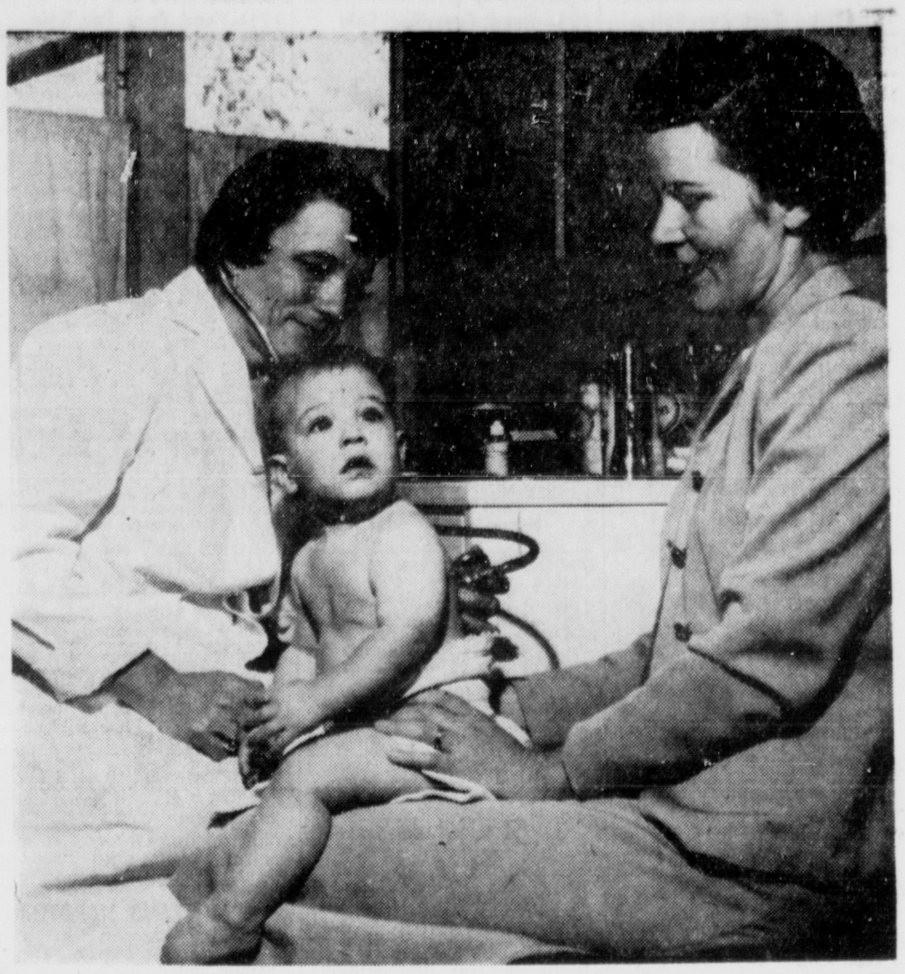
In 1962, growth forced another move and the sanitation department, now called the division of environmental health, moved into the Civic Center. In 1964 the nursing division moved to quarters at 411 Fourth Street.

The county department quickly supplanted city health departments, the cities contracting for service from the county. Nine cities had joined the system by 1947, Novato joined in 1960 and Tiburon in 1964.

The list of department services includes some so basic that 1942 seems as remote as the Dark Ages: immunization, for instance, or food inspections, rules for garbage and sewage disposal and rabies vaccination clinics.

The department also investigates animal bites and quarantines animals, holds baby health clinics, operates a complete gamut of services for crippled children, holds birth control clinics and gives classes for expectant parents, provides counseling, nursing and information for the mentally retarded, holds tuberculosis tests, diagnoses and treats venereal diseases and provides a wide range of environmental health services.

It has been a significant 25 years. And there must be many of Marin's 200,000 citizens — four times the population of 1942 —who would not be around today without the services of the public health department.



CHECKUP — Young David Morris is checked over by Dr. Catherine Pike at a county health department well-baby clinic in this 1959 picture. His mother, Mrs. Helen M. Morris, watches.

Citizens Plan A Cool Pool For Hot Bear

The long hot summer for Teddy is about to come to an end. No longer will he make like a bear with a sore head whenever San Rafael's temperature shoots into the 70's.

This week, landscape architects drawings are expected to be ready for a swimming pool which will be the California bear's own pride and joy at the Louise A. Boyd Natural Science Museum in San Rafael.

Prime mover behind the project is Mrs. Grace Stevenson of 11 Albion way, San Rafael, who took one look at a picture of Teddy and his sole means of keeping his cool — a water barrel — and set about to bring relief.

The bear and his barrel were featured in a front-page story in the Independent-Journal June 29.

"I just couldn't believe it when I saw the picture," said Mrs. Stevenson. "I made a few inquiries and discovered a lot of people were willing to help."

She contacted a landscape architect through Mrs. Clair Evans, museum director, and a building materials firm agreed to provide concrete blocks. Men have volunteered to lend a helping hand.

Water District Directors Will Meet Thursday

Directors of Marin Municipal Water District will meet Thursday instead of tomorrow, because a quorum will not be available on the regular meeting day.

At the meeting, which starts at 1:30 p.m. at the district office, 220 Nellen Avenue, Corte Madera, directors will consider approval of plans for the construction of three water tanks, one on Conifer Way in Woodacre, in Scott Highlands, Mill Valley and Tiburon, above the Mount Tiburon subdivision.

General Mgr. William R. Seeger said today he will ask board approval to dispose of the districts obsolete equipment by sending it to the county's annual equipment auction.

County purchasing Agent John F. Hettrich said the auction is scheduled for Sept. 10 at 1 p.m. at the Civic Center parking lot.

Innocent Plea To Stabbing

Innocent and innocent by reason of insanity pleas were entered in Marin Superior Court yesterday by Harold B. Patterson, 22-year-old San Quentin inmate accused of stabbing a correctional officer.

Judge Harold J. Haley scheduled jury trial for the week of Sept. 11.

Patterson, serving time for burglary in Los Angeles County, allegedly stabbed Glenn E. Bennett of San Anselmo twice in the back with a screwdriver July 12. Bennett survived.

Polio is decreasing rapidly. Only 72 cases were reported in 1965, according to the U. S. Communicable Disease Center.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Ringworm Infections Likely To Occur In Warmest Months

VAN DELLEN

Ringworm infections are more common in summer because the causative fungi and yeast thrive in a warm, moist environment. The organisms usually are superficial in that inflammation rarely extends more than 1-16th inch into the skin. General health also plays a role in susceptibility as the infections are more common among the debilitated, seriously ill, diabetics, and those receiving antibiotics or cortisone-type steroids.

THERE ARE probably 100,000 species of fungi, several which produce identical eruptions. Skin scrapings must be studied under the microscope to identify the causative agent. Other eruptions are so distinctive that the culprit is obvious. In addition, griseofulvin, our most important remedy, does not act on all fungal infections.

Candida or monilia infections respond to nystatin ointments, amphotericin-B, gentian violet, and Vioform. Monilial organisms attack the nail folds, palms, groin, corners of the mouth, and under the breasts. The ensuing rash resembles an eczema with itching, weeping, and scaliness. Yeast organisms may invade the intestine without causing symptoms.

Members of the tinea group cause the usual types of ringworm. These elements involve the scalp, beard, nails, hands, feet, and the smooth skin including the inner surfaces of the thigh. Athlete's foot, the most common fungus disease, is a member of this species.

SOME dermatologists classify ringworm into two groups. The first is of human origin. Susceptibility is important because many persons are exposed to the fungi but never develop an infection because of natural resistance.

The second group is transmitted by cats, dogs, cattle, and small rodents. Scalp ringworm in children, and some fungal infections involving exposed skin including the beard, belong in this category.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the I-J.)

BREATH HOLDING

Mrs. C. B. writes: I have a 3-year-old grandson who holds his breath when he cries. The other day he continued until he passed out. How can I stop him from doing this?

REPLY

You can't, but these children begin to breathe the moment they become unconscious because they no longer have control of the respiratory system. Breath holding, like temper tantrums, is a temporary habit.

SHINGLES AND NEURITIS

Mrs. D. writes: Is shingles a form of neuritis?

REPLY

A relationship exists between the two. In herpes zoster (shingles), inflammation is confined to the nerve endings, whereas in neuritis the entire nerve is usually involved. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on shingles.

BRAIN INFECTION

P. R. writes: What are the aftereffects of encephalitis?

REPLY

Parkinsonism (shaking palsy) is the best known complication. Others include intellectual and emotional changes and slowing of the mental processes.

CALCIUM AND BURSISITS

K. H. B. writes: Is bursitis the result of calcium deposits?

REPLY

No. When the bursal tissues are irritated, calcium forms as part of the healing process.

VEIN RUPTURE

J. P. C. writes: Could a broken varicose vein cause a woman to bleed to death?

REPLY

Yes, but this tragedy is needless because it is so easy to stop bleeding by applying pressure.

Registration At School Announced

Students in the San Rafael School District who plan to attend the Davidson Junior High School next semester must register by Aug. 29.

Counsellors will be at the school each weekday from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. to meet prospective students who must present school records at the time of registration. Parents may call the school for appointments.

Seminary Complex To Be Considered

The San Anselmo Design Review Committee will consider plans of the San Francisco Theological Seminary for a 17-unit apartment complex at 108 Ross Avenue tomorrow at 8 p.m. at city hall.

The committee will also consider Glen Graham's plans for a carport at 70 Scenic Avenue.

Session Is Set On Flood Control

Army engineers will present preliminary results of studies for a flood control project for Novato Creek at a meeting Thursday at 8 p.m. at the Novato Community House. The meeting is sponsored by Novato Flood Control Zone No. 1.

The engineers' presentation will deal principally with discussion of several flood control plans which have been studied for comparison purposes and, of these, the plan which appears most favorable both from the engineering as well as an economic standpoint.

New Research Offers Some Hope Of Eventually Predicting Quakes

By SCIENCE SERVICE

Recently an earthquake struck the western Pyrenees (Aug. 13), practically destroying the French village of Arette and two neighboring hamlets, leaving over 1,000 people homeless.

And before that many people lost their lives and millions of pounds sterling worth of damage was caused when earthquakes afflicted parts of Turkey and Venezuela.

These disasters raise again the question of how we can learn more about the mechanism causing these violent geological upheavals and so, perhaps, warn people of impending danger.

It is a difficult task for a number of reasons. But over the past few years, the science of seismology has undergone something of a revolution following the development—largely by British physicists of the United Kingdom Atomic Energy Authority (UKAEA)—of extremely sensitive and powerful methods of monitoring the continuous major and minor rumblings of the earth's crust.

Already a great deal is known about earthquakes. For example, nearly all of them occur within two well defined zones of the globe. These are the most recent belts of mountain-building activity which form irregular rings enclosing more stable regions of the earth's surface.

The Venezuelan tremors of July 29 and 31, which left behind a sad toll of more than 300 dead, 1,600 injured and an estimated 3.5 million pounds worth of damage in Caracas and the Port of La Guaiva, happened somewhere near the mid-point of the Great Cordilleran Mountain Belt which itself forms part of the much larger circum-Pacific belt of mountains and earthquakes.

Recent oceanographic research has now provided strong evidence that the floor of the Pacific — and those of other oceans — is slowly spreading. This very stiff flow, continued beneath the edges of the bordering continents, sets up drag forces which crumple up mountains and produce intense stresses in the overlying crustal rocks.

It is when these finally become too great for the rocks to sustain that breaks occur in the rock formations accompanied by the vibrations we recognize as earthquakes.

Similar mechanisms are at work beneath the second of the world's great mountain belts, the Mediterranean-Trans-Asiatic Zone, running from the Pyrenees through the Alps, Caucasus and Himalayas and down to the East Indies.

The tremor that destroyed Arette occurred within this zone. Turkey, too, is unfortunate to lie athwart this still kicking dragon and the earthquakes of July 22, 23 and 30, centered on the city of Adapazari, 90 miles east of Istanbul, caused over 200 deaths.

Severe earthquakes, not necessarily within damaging range of human settlements, take place every two or three weeks on average, some 80 per cent of them associated with the circum-Pacific belt. It is only when they bring down buildings, cause fires and so on that human lives are usually lost.

And it is clear that the main part of the suffering and deaths could be averted given adequate warning of an impending earthquake.

Unfortunately these crustal catastrophies reveal very little of their intentions beforehand.

Soviet Premier's Daughter Misses Favorite Sights

NEW YORK (AP) — A supermarket, a drive-in theater and a race track were the three things the Soviet premier's daughter most wanted to see in the United States.

So writes Mrs. Richard J. Hughes, wife of the New Jersey governor, who entertained Ludmila Gvishiani, daughter of Premier Alexei N. Kosygin, during the Glassboro, N.J., summit talks last June. Mrs. Hughes, in a McCall's magazine article, said she invited Mrs. Gvishiani to come back with her husband and children — incognito — so they could see the things she had missed.

Mrs. Gvishiani, who was a luncheon guest of the Hughes family at their beach house, said that because of fear of crowds she had not been able to see the three things she most wanted to see, Mrs. Hughes wrote.

Scotland Yard Hunting Gunman

LONDON (AP) — Scotland Yard believes the men who sprayed the U.S. Embassy with machine-gun fire Sunday night were either three isolated anti-Americans or a threatening new political protest group.

Investigators raided the headquarters of 15 anti-American groups yesterday seeking the three gunmen, thought to be white, who drove away from the embassy in a Ford Cortina.

The gunmen left a note, signed by the unknown "Revolutionary Solidarity Movement," which said:

"Stop criminal murders of the American army. Solidarity with all people battling against Yankee fascism all over the world. Racism no. Freedom for American Negroes."

Reds Leave Candlestick, Here Come The Cardinals

If the San Francisco Giants needed any fuel to fire themselves up for tonight's 8 o'clock opener of a three-game series with the league-leading St. Louis Cardinals in Candlestick Park, they were liberally sprinkled with it during yesterday's loss to Cincinnati.

A bizarre top of the ninth inning in which the umpires reversed a decision which led to the ejection of Giants' Manager Herman Franks almost overshadowed a brilliant pitching performance by Cincinnati right-hander Jim Maloney.

Maloney, now 11-9, held the Giants to two hits—a single by Jesus Alou in the first inning and a double by Tito Fuentes in the second—but retired 22 of the next 23 batters to register a 2-0 victory and hand Ron Herbel a heartbreaking defeat.

Herbel allowed the Reds' first run in the first inning when Vada Pinson singles, stole second and scored on a bloop single into short center field by Lee May.

The Giants' right-hander, now 2-4, then pitched shutout ball the rest of the way and was lifted for a pinch hitter in the eighth. Frank Linzy took over in the ninth, when the Reds pushed across their final run with a helping hand from the umpires.

Pete Rose opened the inning with an infield hit and moved to second on May's bunt. Tony Perez was intentionally passed, setting up the freak play which interrupted the game for nearly 10 minutes.

Tommy Helms hit a lazy line drive to right field. Rightfielder Jesus Alou made the catch near his shoe tops, appeared to juggle the ball, then dropped it.

Second base umpire Augie Donatelli slashed the safe sign, so Alou hustled the ball to second baseman Jim Davenport, who relayed it to Dick Groat. The veteran shortstop stepped on second for an apparent forceout and dashed toward first, stepping on the bag for the double play.

As Groat was heading for first, Rose had reached third and started for home at half speed. After Groat tagged the bag, Rose crossed the plate and the Giants' players spilled into their dugout.

Cincinnati Manager Dave Bristol, his coaches and some players surrounded the four confused arbiters and, after lengthy deliberation, the Giants were summoned back on to the field. Franks tore out of the dugout and vehemently protested the decision.

After several moments of argument, Franks got the boot and filed his protest with plate umpire Al Barlick.

"It was ruled a catch by Alou, eliminating the forceout," explained Barlick. "Alou dropped the ball after the catch was made."

When Franks was informed of this, he said "they're (the umpires) liars. Donatelli called the runner out at second when Groat tagged the bag, and (Mel) Steiner did the same thing at first base."

Franks protested on the basis that Groat was misled by the umpires into thinking he had a chance at a double play.

"I could have had Rose out at home easily," offered Groat, "but I wanted the double play. I asked Augie if Jesus dropped the ball, and he said yes. I stepped on second and Donatelli called Perez out. Then I went to first, and Steiner called Helms out.

"When we left the field the first time, I'm sure the umpires knew we had a double play," Groat continued.

"Later, the decision was changed. I don't know why—we'll probably never know," said Groat.

"Donatelli told Groat Alou didn't catch the ball," Franks contended. "Groat knows a forceout situation when he sees one. Donatelli didn't tell Groat the ball was dropped after the catch until we returned to the field."

Alou perhaps best summed up the nightmarish situation: "I'm confused," he admitted. "I won't say whether I caught the ball or dropped it. What the umpire says is important, not what I say."

JIM GILMARTIN

Rough Time In Fairbanks For Babe Ruth Official

ANCHORAGE—Richard W. Case is a funny little squirt.

"I'm only five-feet-five, so I get nervous around water," he said succinctly, "especially when it comes in deep.

"There I was, sound asleep, when suddenly I awoke with a sinking feeling. I reached out for a cigarette and—splash. Water, water everywhere but not a drop to drink. I said to myself, now, this is an unusual hotel and I didn't even bring my swimming togs along with my other trunks."

Case, of Trenton, N.J., is executive vice-president of Babe Ruth Baseball International, and is here directing its 16th annual World Series. He was one of the advance men in Fairbanks arranging this classic when the rains (and floods) came.

"They call me the rainmaker," he said drily. "We were preparing the ballpark in Fairbanks and I instructed the groundskeepers to water down the infield.

"Now this is ridiculous. I couldn't stop 'em.

"Next thing I know my bed's afloat. Oh buoy, was it cold!

They Picked Us Up In A Boat

"They started evacuating everybody, but we were running around like the Keystone Kops, moving our luggage and booze and even the cigarette machine up to the second floor of our floatel. We were prepared to hold out for a couple of days until somebody came and picked us up in a boat."

"Now there is a strange feeling: Driving around downtown Fairbanks in a boat. I almost got seasick.

"Funny thing: The last word my boss said to me before I left Trenton was, 'Come hell or high water, we're going to have a great tournament.' And you know something? He was right.

"We had a little trouble promoting the Series in Fairbanks. It's difficult talking to the mayor about baseball when his whole town is under water.

"When we select cities to host this World Series we try to pick places where we'll have a captive audience. Shucks, we were the captives. "But we're used to disasters. I'll never forget the time when we had a tornado in Anderson, Indiana. In my seven years on this job we're never had a World Series game rained out, but wow, that tornado had us running around in circles.

"Then there was the time, 1963, when we played the Series in Farmington, New Mexico. On opening day there was an Indian uprising in town and they started circling the stadium.

It Made Me Kind Of Nervous

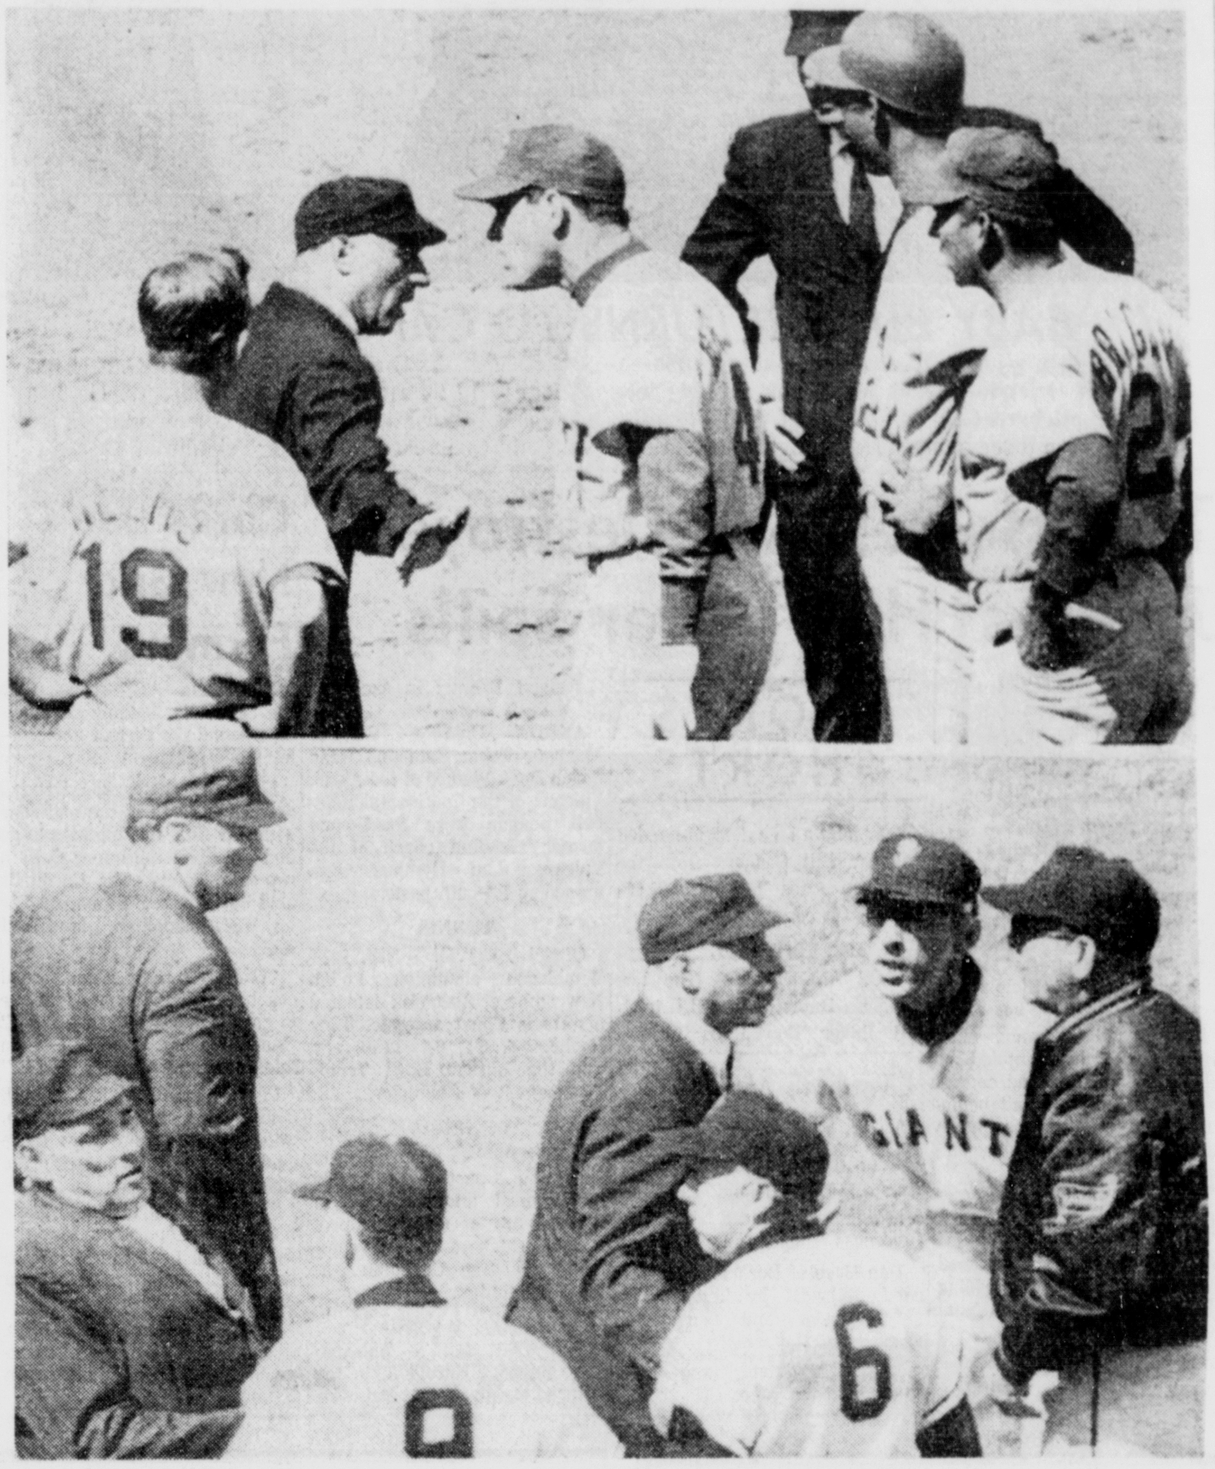
"Made me kind of nervous because we had a kid pitcher on the mound with long blond hair who bore a strong resemblance to General Custer. First thing we did was close the ice cream concession 'cause we didn't want to get involved in custard's last stand.

"Farmington was quite a place. It's located about five mountains from nowhere.

"Well, gotta go now. Lots of luck to your Novato team. And by the way, next time you're in Fairbanks, drop in."

Novato-Hamilton's team practiced again yesterday, then attended last night's opening games to scout the opposition. Today the 15-man team, Manager Bill Dillon and Coaches Jack Holsclaw and Bob Sisemore were to visit nearby tourist attractions as guests of Tresh Electric Co. of Novato.

The 15-member Novato-Hamilton rooters group went trout fishing yesterday and came back empty-handed.



FISHWIVES IN THE BALLPARK—Arguments and more arguments as a controversial fly ball that Jesus Alou maybe dropped in the ninth inning sparks two heated arguments with the umps. First it's Cincinnati (top) as Tommy Helms (19), Manager Dave Bristol (4) and coach Jimmy Bragan (2) chat with umpire Augie Donatelli. Then Herman Franks, in jacket, (below) and Giant coaches Peanuts Lowry (6) and Charlie Fox (9) also prattle with umps Al Barlick, left and Stan Landes after the umps reversed the decision. Novato Babe Ruths Vs. Champs In Alaska Meet

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (UPI) —Nashville and New Orleans, the defending champion, turned in first-round victories in the Babe Ruth World Series here yesterday over the two Alaska representatives.

Nashville topped Anchorage 13-5 while New Orleans, which is shooting for its third straight title, walloped Fairbanks 20-1 to tie a series mark for the most runs in one game.

Nashville now meets Terre Haute, Ind., in the winner's bracket tomorrow afternoon while New Orleans plays Novato-Hamilton in another afternoon game.

Today's second round play pits Wellington, Kans., against Klamath Falls, Ore., and Manchester, N.H. against Levittown, Pa. Fairbanks meets Anchorage this evening in the losers' bracket.

The tournament was originally to have been staged at Fairbanks, Alaska, before last week's disastrous flood washed that out.

Fairbanks Mayor H. A. Boucher was greeted with a standing ovation when he appeared at last night's games to thank the people of Anchorage for hosting the tournament in place of Fairbanks.

Sore Shoulder For Palmer On Eve Of Richest Tourney

LIGONIER, Pa. (AP) — Arnold Palmer complained today of his first shoulder ailment ever on the eve of the $250,000 Westchester Open — richest in pro golf.

Palmer was undergoing treatment for a muscle spasm in his right shoulder and didn't know how that would affect him in the Westchester, which starts Thursday in Harrison, N.Y.

Any kind of finish in that tournament would recapture for Palmer the PGA tour's one-season, money-winning record.

Palmer's shoulder started hurting yesterday in the first round of the Pennsylvania Open on his home course. He was four strokes off the pace.

Palmer didn't want to alibi his score, a four-over par 75, but he spent more time exercising his shoulders than swinging his clubs.

"I might have caught a cold in it, but I'm not sure," he said. "I've never had this kind of trouble before."

Palmer was playing in the state tournament for the first time since he turned pro in 1954, making good on an old promise. However, whether he'd be able to finish was questionable.

The tournament itself at Laurel Valley Golf Club was a lark to Palmer, at least when it started.

He joked with the gallery and with other contestants and didn't even seem to notice he wasn't playing very well.

"I hope there is somebody around to help me," he kidded. "I don't know this course."

It was different when he finished.

"It felt a little funny when I woke up, but it didn't bother me until I was at the top of my drive on the 11th," he said. "I don't want to fool around with it because there's a big tournament coming up."

First prize in the Pennsylvania Open is $800, compared to $50,000 the winner will receive at Westchester.

Trouble for Palmer at Laurel Valley, about nine miles from his Latrobe home, is nothing new. Two years ago, he was a favorite in the PGA because of his familiarity with the course, but finished 14 strokes behind Dave Marr.

While Palmer struggled with seven bogeys in the opening round, Barry Masick, 23, a novice pro from Berwick, Pa., one-putted six holes on the back nine — four for birdies — for a par 71 and the first-round lead.

Feud Between Finley, Players Reaches Impasse

BALTIMORE (AP) — The feud between the Kansas City Athletics and owner Charles O. Finley stood at a silent impasse today as both sides declined comment on a lengthy clubhouse meeting which ended about 1:20 a.m.

For the moment, at least, Finley appeared to hold the upper hand — having fired Manager Alvin Dark, released first baseman Ken Harrelson, suspended pitcher Lew Krausse and fined pitcher Jack Aker.

But Finley's silence after a meeting of almost two hours indicated he may not know his next move in the explosive situation.

Harrelson, given his unconditional release yesterday after criticizing Finley, said the controversial Kansas City boss "may have gotten in deeper than he thinks this time."

MISTAKE

"Finley made one mistake after another in the last week," Harrelson said. "The biggest one was firing Alvin Dark."

Dark was dismissed at 5:30 a.m. Sunday, following an all-night meeting in a Washington hotel. The meeting was called after the players met Saturday and released a statement which supported Dark and accused Finley of breaking team morale by using an informant to spy on the team.

The Athletics also contended that an incident on an airline trip from Boston to Kansas City, which led to the suspension of Krausse, had been overplayed.

Aker, the team's player representative who was fined $250 for missing curfew last Saturday night, said the Krausse incident was not the start of the trouble but rather had "brought it into the open."

FOCAL POINT

The players' statement which followed, however, has become the focal point of the dispute while the underlying reasons remain hidden.

Prior to last night's Baltimore-Kansas City game, the A's held a clubhouse meeting and voted unanimously not to retract the statement which they said had been requested by Finley.

Finley, then in Chicago, asked Aker to withhold the announcement on the retraction refusal until he arrived for further discussion. But after another unanimous vote, the decision was officially released.

The players seemed determined to stand their ground, but following the post-game meeting with Finley they seemed much more subdued. Finley answered newsmen's question testily with "no comment" answers which became increasingly louder.

"It was a very enjoyable meeting — period," he snapped, getting into a taxicab outside Memorial Stadium.

Aker also declined comment, but in answer to a question said, "He (Finley) did not threaten us."

NO MEETINGS PLANNED

The player representative said no more meetings were planned by the Athletics.

Aker has been in touch with Marvin Miller, executive director of the Major League Baseball Players Association, but contended he had not requested action by the attorney.

Dark, who is believed headed for Kansas City, said last night that he knew and approved of the players' statement criticizing Finley, calling it "the most courageous thing I have ever seen."

The deposed manager said the

Singer Holding Hot Hand

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Last year Bill Singer was losfinger. Now he's holding one of the hottest hands in the National League.

The 6-foot-4 Los Angeles rookie pitched a four-hitter and struck out 12 last night in blanking Atlanta 2-0 for his sixth straight victory. The shutout completed a four-game series sweep for the Dodgers over the visiting Braves.

Singer sparkled in three late-season relief appearances for the Dodgers last fall, but had trouble gripping the ball at times because of a mysterous coldness in a finger on his pitching hand.

However, postseason surgery — involving the removal of a piece of rib to correct a pinched nerve — eliminated the problem and the hard-throwing right-hander has overcome a shaky start this year to boost his record to 8-4. In eight starts over the past five weeks he has yielded only six earned runs in a span of 60 2-3 innings.

In other N.L. action, Pittsburgh trimmed the Chicago Cubs 5-1; Houston battered first-place St. Louis 11-4 and Cincinnati shut out San Francisco 2-0.

WHITE SOX WIN

The Chicago White Sox nipped the New York Yankees 4-3; Boston topped Washington 6-5; Baltimore beat Kansas City 5-2 and California downed Cleveland 6-4.

San Anselman Wins Another Rifle Title

Gary L. Anderson of San Anselmo, San Francisco Theological Seminary student who has enough shooting trophies and honors to fill a small chapel, added another to his collection yesterday at the National Rifle and Pistol Championships at Camp Perry, Ohio.

Anderson captured the men's small bore rifle title while Capt. Margaret Thompson of Fort Benning, Ga., took the women's crown.

The new title will go nicely with his two gold medals won at the 1964 Olympics and two silvers and bronze medals. In addition, he broke the world 300-meter record at the World Championships in Wiesbaden, Germany, last year, and held the Pan-Am rifle position record until it was broken this year by Capt. Thompson.

BASEBALL

Singer overpowered the Braves with six strikeouts in the first three innings and retired 16 batters in order after a first inning single by Tito Francona.

"I guess added confidence has something to do with it," Singer said afterward in trying to explain his recent success. "I've never had much of a curve ball so I have to use my slider as my breaking pitch. Tonight, I had the best hard slider I've thrown all year."

The Dodgers scored against Ken Johnson in the first on Nate Oliver's double, an infield single by Willie Davis and a double play grounder. They added a man and Jim Lefebvre's triple. run in the third on a hit bats-

Roberto Clemente delivered four runs with a single and his 18th homer as the Pirates extended their winning string to five games.

MAZEROSKI OFF

Woody Fryman registered his second victory against six losses with relief help from Roy Face — and despite three errors by Bill Mazeroski, the fancy-fielding second baseman who set a league record by committing only eight miscues in 957 chances last season.

The Astros, who snapped St. Louis' eight-game victory string Sunday, banged out 13 hits against loser Ray Washburn and two successors, wrapping up the verdict with a five-run flurry in the seventh.

Rookie Norm Miller led the attack with three successive doubles, drove in a pair of runs and scored twice.

Synanon Loses Softball Game

A softball team from the Synanon Foundation in Tomales gave the "Thumbsuckers" from radio station KSFO a bad scare in the ninth inning Sunday before bowing 13-11 at Tomales.

The Synanonentities trailed by eight runs but scored six before the radio men could bring the program to a halt.

Outstanding for KSFO were disc jockies, Jim Lange and Dan Sorkin, while Rich Petti, Oscar Camano and Stan Berney excelled for Synanon.

The two groups will play again next year, same time, same station.

BABY BULL RETURNS TO CANDLESTICK

Although it's just a trick of the photographer, the bat of Orlando Cepeda must look this big to opposing pitchers. Cepeda and his St. Louis teammates open a three-game series tonight in Candlestick Park. Ex-Giant Cepeda is batting .341, has knocked in 93 runs and has 21 homers. He has made the big hit to beat the Giants four times already this year. (UPI Telephoto)

Two Horses Are Destroyed, Jockeys Hurt After Spills

TIMONIUM, Md. (AP) — Two horses were so badly injured that they had to be destroyed and three jockeys were injured yesterday in separate races at the half-miie track here.

In the fourth race, the horse Yogi Bolero was leading when he darted from the track on a turn and attempted to jump an eight-foot chain-link fence. The horse was caught at the top of the fence, its stomach torn open. Track officials were forced to destroy the horse.

In the sixth race, Lord Gregory suddenly stumbled and fell, snapping a leg and causing two other horses to fall behind him. Three jockeys were slightly injured and taken to St. Joseph's Hospital.

Track officials had to destroy Lord Gregory.

The jockeys were identified as Ronnie Barnes, aboard Lord Gregory; Phillip Grove, riding Filando, and Raymond Kimbal on Call The Preacher.

SPORTS SHORTS

Mets obtained right-handed pitcher Bill Connors from the Chicago Cubs for the $20,000 waiver price.

FOOTBALL

LOS ANGELES — The Los Angeles Rams of the NFL traded flaker Bob Reed to the Cleveland Browns in exchange for a draft choice.

AKRON, Ohio — General Manager Tobin Rote and Head Coach Doak Walker of the Akron Vulcans of the Continental Football League were fired, and former assistant coach of the Vulcans, Lou Rymkus, was named to fill both posts.

TENNIS

GLEN COVE, N.Y. — Wimbledon champion John Newcombe of Australia defeated his Davis Cup teammate, Tony Roche, 3-6, 6-3, 6-4, 12-10, and won the Nassau Bowl Tennis Tournament of Champions.

TORONTO — Bill McGuire of Gary, Ind., scored 156 points and jumped into the lead in the first day of the world professional high diving competitions at the Canadian National Exhibition.

HORSE RACING

DEL MAR, Calif. — Balsamo II, $4.40, beat Harold J. in the featured eighth race at Del Mar.

Livermore Man Wins El Toro Race

Fred Rienecker of Livermore won the Hog Island El Toro Marathon sponsored by the Inverness Yacht Club Sunday.

Dan Herb of Berkeley was second, followed by Ted Brock of Inverness and George Quesada of Novato.

Milly Bratenahl won the junior division race.

Cards Use New Grid Formula

ST. LOUIS (AP)—It looks like the St. Louis football Cardinals have found the perfect defense—let the other team score.

St. Louis punter Joe Randall downed the ball in the end zone with less than two minutes to go and gave the Baltimore Colts a two-point safety. The Cardinals held on to beat Baltimore 9-5 in an NFL exhibition game last night.

"Charley (St. Louis head coach Charley Winner) told me to get the safety and then punt," Randall said. "I didn't even think of it until Charley said it."

Charley didn't think of it until field goal kicker Jim Bakken, who won the game with three field goals, came up with the idea.

Bakken kicked two field goals in the second quarter to give the Cardinals a 6-0 lead. His third quarter field goal was a 51-yard effort.

Baltimore scored with three seconds left in the second quarter on a Lou Michaels' kick from 37 yards.

Dying Fish In San Francisco Bay Becoming Very Serious

STEVENS

I wonder how many of my readers noted the item about fish dying in San Francisco Bay at a record rate? According to Donald Lollock, a polution bioanalist for the Department of Fish and Game, it has been the worst in recorded history.

There is nothing so remarkable about a large number of striped bass dying in our bays at this period of the year, but it seems to be unusual in that not only bass are dead or dying, sharks and sting rays have also been seen either dead or dying. Lollock asks that all instances of dying fish — bass, sharks or stingrays — be reported to the DFG. As he said, dead fish may come from almost anywhere, but dying fish sort of pinpoint the area. So, if you see a dying striper, or shark or stingray, get on the phone and contact Lollock or some one on his staff.

"DYING SHARKS WILL simply nose up onto the shore line and make no effort to get away," he said. Oddly, while stripers, sharks and sting rays are dying, no significant number of dying anchovies, perches or flounders have been noted.

Lollock made no mention of sturgeon; maybe there have been no kills among them, but Charlie Schmelz of Dowrelio's Crockett harbor noted that on Saturday, a number of undersized sturgeon were released, and instead of immediately submerging, floated around as though doped.

THERE IS NO danger from eating striped bass, we are told, so get your share while the getting is good. Stripers are plentiful for the anglers who work the right area and have the know-how. For example, take a look at Saturday's catch of bass, as reported by Hal Boenner of the Lee Anderson Bait, Boat and Tackle Shop: The "E.O.11", with four anglers aboard, took 11 bass to 24 pounds, drift-fishing off Alcatraz Island: The "Duke No. 2" netted eight bass to 19 pounds trolling Racoon Strait; the boat "Miss Dragnet" sure had a banner day trolling in Racoon, 40 stripers to 40 pounds; "The Cherokee" boated six limits to 18 pounds in the Racoon Strait area, and the "R.S.P." tied that score.

SALMON TROLLING outside Buoy No. 2 yielded 15 salmon to 15 pounds for the "Sea Horse"; the "Sea Wolf" took 7 to 12 pounds and the "Hazel B" had 4 to 16 pounds. Best action was on the north side of the Golden Gate.

Late evening trolling in the San Pablo Bay continues slow, but with better tides (quite normal today) the evening trolling should pay off. Here's hoping you are there when it happens.

Marin Deer Kill Down This Year

The deer were either slightly on the ball, or there were less of them or less of the hunters, but whatever the reason the Marin County early deer season kill total dropped ever so slightly.

The kill came to 167 as opposed to 172 last year, a drop of five. The Archers also had a little trouble with the deer ones. Only one deer was felled with an arrow as opposed to four last year, according to announcement from the Department of Fish and Game.

Juan Hopes To Prove He's Worth 100 Grand

Since making his major league debut in mid-season 1960 as a $7,500 pitcher, Juan Marichal worked his way to the $100,000 bracket this year. No superstar in baseball got into the $100,000 category as fast as Marichal.

The 1967 baseball season still has six weeks to go but speculation already has started about 1968 salaries. One angry Giant fan, displeased One angry Giant fan, displeased with Marichal's 14-9 record this year because of the Dominican Dandy's 20-game plus marks over the past four seasons, visited the Candlestick Park press box during the weekend and declared: "I'll bet Marichal is going to demand another raise next year."

ONE OF THE baseball writers wondered what Marichal would have to say about that and asked him if he actually had a raise in mind.

"No," said Marichal, shaking his head negatively in perhaps more displeasure at his own 1967 record than that which prompted the angry fan into an intemperate comment.

Well, then, was Marichal anticipating a salary cut?

"The season is not over yet," said Marichal.

OBVIOUSLY, MARICHAL hopes in the final weeks of the season to prove that he doesn't deserve a cut. After all, it wasn't his fault that a hamstring muscle in his leg pulled him to a painful stop Aug. 4 in Shea Stadium. Such things happen to the best conditioned of athletes because of an outfield rut that throws them off stride as Marichal was while running routine wind sprints.

Aside from the financial factor involved, Marichal has another reason for wanting to make a strong finish. He wants to maintain his 20-game record, extending it to the fifth consecutive season.

WINNING SIX OF an expected 10 or 11 starts isn't really a difficult job for Marichal provided errors don't cost him ball games, as they did three times this year.

Because of a history of late season injuries, an erroneous belief exists in the minds of many Giant fans concerning Marichal's performances in September.

THE SAME ANGRY fan who made the intemperate remark about Marichal's 1968 salary intentions also made some excessive and immoderate remarks about Marichal's September record over the past years.

"Marichal is a great pitcher until the stretch drive," said the irate Candlestick customer.

IT'S TRUE THAT Marichal did lose his last three starts in 1965 — four of his last seven starts that year following a suspension of eight playing days and a $1,750 fine for the bat incident Aug. 22 with John Roseboro.

But what about last season? From Aug. 23 to the end of the 1966 season, Marichal won eight of his last nine decisions for a 25-6 record that he felt was worth the $100,000 being paid him this year.

Boccabella, Burch Have A Hot Week

Johnny Boccabella and Frank Burch are blazing away in the minor leagues.

Boccabella, the San Anselman who had spend most of the season with the erstwhile hot Chicago Cubs before being sent to Tacoma of the Pacific Coast League had a .348 week to lift his batting average to a respectable .281 with eight hits in 23 at bats.

Burch, the former Marin Catholic whiz, picked up another win with the Batavia, N.Y., Class A team, upping his season mark to 6-2. He hurled seven innings, allowed just a pair of hits and struck out three.

Ron Cole of Mill Valley hurled 13 innings last week for the Asheville, N.C. Astros but was not involved in any decisions. He allowed six hits.

Marin Mermaids Win Second Place

The San Marin Pisceans 12-under-team finished second at the Rancho Cordova synchronized swim meet near Sacramento Sunday while individuals picked up a pack of awards.

Kathy Bacho took a first in the girls 12-over division with "Blackwood O." In the same division Sherry Linneman finished fourth with "Baghdad."

The Pisceans dominated the 15-over division with Terry Beggs finishing second, Cathy Bacho fourth, Sherry Linneman fifth, Karen Keegan sixth and Denise Silva seventh.

Sherry and Nancy Adams were third in the duets for 12-and-over.

Mrs. May Wins Golf Tournament

Perennial frontrunner Mrs. William May took low gross honors at the Mill Valley Women's Golf Club's Guest Day Medal Play tournament last Friday with an 80.

The results:

Class A — Mrs. Thomas Brymer, 82-15-67; Marsha Lee, 90-20-70; Mrs. Nathan Pinkus, 91-19-72; Mrs. Helvetia Walker, 91-19-72.

Class B — Mesdames Felix Mola, 84-24-61; Hugh Cavalli, 91-27-64; W. G. Risdon, 92-25-67.

Class C — Mesdames Alton Edwards, 97-30-67; Philip Schaefer, 95-28-67; Hugh Richardson, 96-28-68.

Rohde, Hurley Tie For First

Jim Rohde and Jack Hurley finished in a deadlock for first place in Peacock Gap's No Alibi golf tournament Saturday, both scoring 71s.

A stroke off in the tightly packed field of 55 were Bill Cardinal and Neil Roquemore at 72, followed by Eldon Bennett, Gordon Hellwig, Sid NuDelman, John Cerrudo at 73. Pat Wolfe had a 74, and Alan Rees was at 77 along with Bill Breen. Ed Kalfain and Bob Seymour had 79s.

statement was drafted with his approval, but not at his instigation.

"They were making revisions in the statement Saturday," Dark said. "I had not seen the final draft and I thought they were not going to release it until Sunday. I had expected them to go over it again Sunday and possibly temper it."

"With courage of this type," Dark said, "these boys are potential pennant winners and Mr. Finley should be proud of them."

TELEGRAMS

In Kansas City, ticket sales for the upcoming weekend series with Detroit were reported up sharply and more than 1,000 telegrams have been sent to principals in the squabble.

Some 500 messages were sent to the team, between 300 and 400 to Aker and about 200 to Joe Cronin, president of the American League.

Harrelson could wind up as the big winner in the controversy. The first baseman, who batted .306 in 60 games with Kansas City after being obtained in a trade with Washington, will be free to make a deal with any club by Thursday.

After 72 hours on waivers, which cannot be recalled, Harrelson can refuse to report to the lowest club in the league which claims him. He then becomes a free agent and may negotiate with any major league team.

Harrelson said six teams contacted him yesterday. He declined to identify them, but said one was in the first division.

His over-all average this season is .274 with nine homers and 40 runs batted in.

Graebner Aiming For Doubles Title

BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP) — Clark Graebner, who leaped from 13th to No. 3 in the U.S. Lawn Tennis Association rankings while his wife took time out to have a baby last year, still is a fellow with a mission.

The 23-year-old former Northwestern star for Beachwood, Ohio, is seeking the U.S. National Doubles title which he and Dennis Ralston, now a pro, came close to winning a year ago.

Forced to default in the Casino Tournament when stricken by a virus at Newport, R.I., last week, Graebner was ready to team with Marty Riessen, another former star at Northwestern, in their first round match yesterday in the 87th annual Championships at Longwood.

Graebner and Riessen, Davis Cup veterans seeded as America's No. 1 team, led an advance of rated entries by overpowering Cliff Montgomery, one-time Columbia football star from Roslyn, N.Y., and Thomas Roesch of Huntington, N.Y., 6-2,6-2, 6-3.

"I felt a little tired, but that was only natural after not playing for five days," Graebner said. "I played fairly well—not great, not bad. I hope to do better. There's a long week ahead."

Graebner realized just how long the march is to the championship. In 1966, he and Ralston sailed into the final round, only to be stopped by Australians Roy Emerson and Fred Stolle.

Stolle turned pro, but Emerson is back seeking a fifth share of the U.S. Doubles title. Emerson and Ronnie Barnes of Brazil, seeded third among foreign teams, defeated Texans John Been and Ron Fisher 6-4, 6-4, 16-14 as darkness began to settle in on the second day of the nine-day competition.

Aussies John Newcombe and Tony Roche, the top-seeded invaders, were set for their first appearance today, while countrymen Bill Bowrey and Owen Davidson, seeded No. 2, were well rested affter winning by default in the opening round.

Sacrifice Income For Better Growth

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. "I am 60. Most of the enclosed list was purchased since my husband died in 1959. Without earning capacity, I have aimed for income and growth. Because of economic conditions, I don't know if my stocks are best for me. I have $200,000 in municipals, $40,000 in real estate and $30,000 in savings. My broker has helped me and I would like your advice, too." A. R.

A. Please first let me say that you and your broker have compiled an excellent list between you. My only criticism is that you are over-diversified with 36 individual issues and that your list, though satisfactory for yield and security, is not strongly situated for capital enhancement. This element seems very important to me, in view of the steady erosion of the dollar's real value, which seems likely to continue.

Since your income from all sources is relatively high, I advise you to sacrifice something here in order to build up more growth. I would sell my preferreds — except General Precision, which is convertible — and also such stocks as Allied Chemical; Consolidated Edison and Columbia Gas which for many years have gone nowhere from a price standpoint. With the proceeds I would buy more American Can, Cities Service, American Smelting and Standard Oil of Indiana — which seem better situated for growth.

Q. "For my Bar Mitzvah I received Viewlex, then selling at six. I am considering switching into Continental Air Lines for my college education. Would you comment?" L.K.

A. Viewlex is, in my opinion, a good but rather small producer of film strip and related items. The company has reported a five-fold earnings increase for the fiscal year recently ended. Your shares trade on the American Exchange where speculation has been pretty feverish and should eventually cool off. A 300 per cent rise in price for Viewlex seems to discount the future considerably. For your purpose I regard Continental Air Lines as a more suitable growth holding.

New Industry

COLUMBIA, S. C. (UPI) — South Carolina has had outstanding success in its quest for new industry. New industrial expansion in 1965 was valued at $600 million and provided an estimated 26,440 new jobs.

The pest control industry represents an estimated business of more than $700 million a year.

Wall Street Firms Up At Close

NEW YORK (AP) — After a day of erosion, the stock market firmed a bit at the close Tuesday.

Only a few issues came on strong and the popular averages continued to decline.

With volume relatively light, losers held an almost 2-to-1 edge over gainers.

Volume for the first four hours was 5,840,000, shares compared with 6,640,000 yesterday.

At 2 p.m., the Dow Jones industrial average, which had posted a slight gain in early trading, was off 3.40. Losers outpaced gainers by about 3-to-2.

Some Wall Street brokers saw the decline as part of consolidation phase which they felt might carry through Labor Day. They cited new contract talks in the auto industry and a possible tax increase for their outlook.

Trading in American Tobacco and Kayser-Roth resumed on the New York Stock Exchange, having been halted briefly after reports that American was negotiating to acquire Kayser-Roth.

Fractional losses by steels, motors, rubbers and aircrafts helped give the Dow its loss.

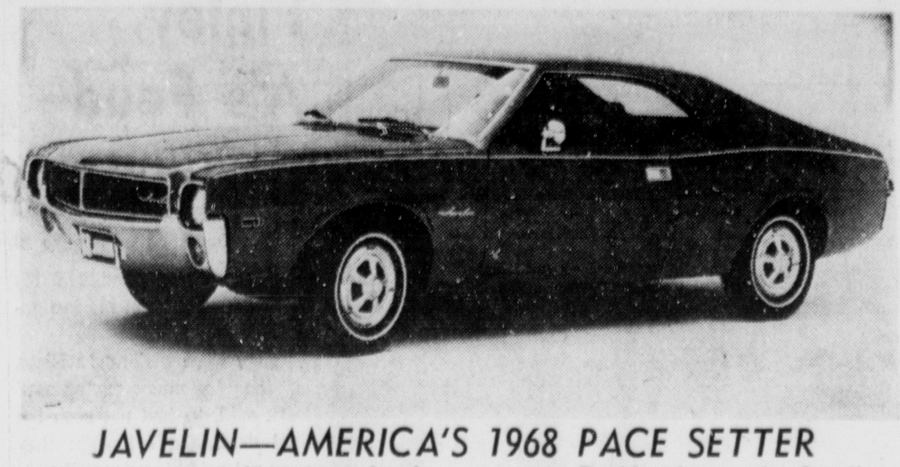
Ling Temco Vought was off more than 2 points, General Motors was off nearly a full point, Goodyear fell more than ½, U.S. Steel lost ⅝, and Boeing wss off 1⅛.

On the up side were Continental Copper, which gained more than a point, Uniroyal, American Cyanamid, General Foods, General Electric, and MGM.

Prices were mixed on the American Stock Exchange.

Fractional gainers included Goldfield, National Video, and Great Basins Petroleums.

Taking fractional losses were Associated Oil & Gas, Gale Industries, and McCull Oil.



JAVELIN—AMERICA'S 1968 PACE SETTER

Classed as a two-door sports hardtop, the racy Javeline represents a change in American Motors styling, with split grille, deep-sectioned bumpers and low profile. Seating comfort is provided for four passengers. Besides the regular Javelin, a specially equipped SST model is available with performance and options. The Javelin will go on sale Sept. 26 at Golden Bay Rambler, Inc., San Rafael and Larry Brink Motors, Inc., Mill Valley.

Silver Certificate Value Continues Value Climb

By JOHN CUNNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — The value of silver certificates continues to rise far above the face value printed on these commonly circulated bills.

A check of some recent prices shows that the premiums of 10 per cent and 12 per cent offered a month ago have now risen to 20 per cent, 25 per cent and in at least one instance to 30 per cent.

EXTRA 30 CENTS

This means that holders of these bills can now receive as much as $1.30 for a $1 bill, $6.50 for a $5 bill and $13 for a $10 bill from coin dealers in various parts of the country.

Bankers, cashiers, tellers and others who accumulate large supplies of these bills from unsuspecting customers are regularly cashing them in. And even though $400 million of these bills are outstanding, it is very unlikely that any smart bank teller or cashier will return any of them in change.

Boosting the value of silver certificates is the rising price of silver metal, now about $1.70 an ounce. That's the open market price. But holders of silver certificates can still buy government silver for $1.29 an ounce until June 30, 1968.

For years the U.S. government pegged the price of silver at $1.29 an ounce in order to protect its coins from being melted down. If silver prices rose too much, the thinking went, silver coins would be destroyed for content.

The government maintained this price by selling from its stockpiles. But rising demand threatened to deplete the supply. In the face of this threat coins were minted from other metals.

THREAT DOWN

Now the government says the supply of nonsilver coins is large enough to offset the threat of coin depletion by melting. It no longer keeps the price depressed to $1.29 an ounce, except in redemption of certificates.

For the past month federal officials have been selling silver at auction, with market demand dictating prices. Since this demand is high for the limited amount of silver, the price has risen to $1.70 an ounce.

The coin dealers and others who now offer $1.25 for a $1 silver certificate can therefore obtain much more than that by redeeming the certificate for $1.29 an-ounce silver.

After receiving their low-price silver from the government these dealers then can resell it in the open market for $1.70, making on each ounce more than 40 cents.

The question naturally arises about whether the middleman needs to be included in the transaction. He need not. Any holder of silver certificates can redeem them himself but he's liable to have some trouble.

SILVER VALUE

First, the only places redeeming them are the U.S. assay offices in New York and San Francisco. And then, unless your quantity of bills is huge, you will be paid in silver granulates. It is hard to resell these.

If, however, you turn in about $1,300 in bills you will receive a 1,000-ounce silver bar. This is more easily traded but still is far short of the amount in which commodity markets will deal.

To sell silver on the open market today you must accumulate 10,000 ounces, that is, 10 bars. Few individuals have such an amount, even though millions of the bills are in private hands.
